Faces Senate Scrutiny

Judge Stewart Appointed To U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Potter Stewart of Cincinnati, whose appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court was announced Tuesday, probably will undergo unusually close Senate scrutiny into his legal philosophy.

This is not because of the man, but because of the times.

JUDGE POTTER STEWART
Ohioan Named By President.

Stewart At Age 43 Supreme Court 'Baby'

WASHINGTON (AP) — At 43 Potter Stewart is going to be the baby of the U. S. Supreme Court.

But Stewart, appointed to the court Thursday, won't be the youngest justice ever to sit on the high bench.

Justice William O. Douglas was only 40 when Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him in 1939.

Two early-day justices, Thomas Todd, appointed in 1807, and Joseph Story, appointed in 1812, were only 32 at the time.

Ages of the other present justices: Chief Justice Warren 67, Hugo L. Black 72, Felix Frankfurter 75, Douglas 59, Tom Clark 59, John M. Harlan 59, William J. Brennan 52, and Charles Evans Whittaker 57.

Stewart's selection by President Eisenhower to succeed retiring Justice Harold H. Burton, also from Ohio, comes at a time when the Supreme Court has become a major center of controversy. Its rulings on school segregation have been denounced in some quarters, while others have criticized its findings in Communist cases.

The appointment was announced less than 24 hours after the disclosure that Burton was retiring on the advice of his physician.

Stewart, a 43-year-old Republican, now is a judge of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals. Eisenhower appointed him to that position in April, 1954.

Under a recess appointment, Stewart will be able to take his place on the nation's highest judicial tribunal immediately after Burton's retirement becomes effective next Monday.

When Congress reconvenes in January, his nomination to the $35,000-a-year lifetime post will be sent to the Senate for confirmation.

The new appointee told questioning newsmen Tuesday that as a circuit judge, he has had a part in deciding only one school segregation case — an Ohio dispute

Nationalist Vessel 'Alone' On Quemoy Trip With Arms

BULLETIN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A top American military adviser to Nationalist China said today the Quemoy blockade has been broken with a vastly improved air and sea supply system that will work even if firing is renewed.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Indications mounted today that U.S. ships have stopped escorting convoys to Quemoy during the seven-day Communist cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

An unescorted Chinese Nationalist landing ship put tons of ammunition and 450 troop replacements ashore on Quemoy today, the third day of the cease-fire. The captain said his ship "came alone" on the supply run from the Pescadores.

His crewmen told AP correspondent Gene Kramer on Quemoy that they did not see any accompanying U.S. warships on the 85-mile voyage.

The Nationalists said large quantities of supplies were pouring into Quemoy. The Communists had said they would hold up their artillery attack for a week provided American escorting of convoys ceased.

Washington dispatches said an order halting American convoying might already have gone out. Radio Peiping reported an absence of American "intrusions" into the 12-mile seaward limit the Communists set on their territorial waters and air space, a line the U.S. ships ignored in their escorting.

In Taipei, public information officers of Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot's Taiwan (Formosa) defense headquarters were apparently under orders to leave all announcements to Washington.

The first American Nike-Hercules missile battalion in the Far East arrived at the southern Formosan port of Keelung today to join in Formosa's defense line. The Nike-Hercules is a supersonic antiaircraft missile capable of seeking out and destroying entire formations of enemy aircraft with either conventional or nuclear warheads.

Thirty-four of the missiles and other equipment for the battalion of more than 700 men arrived in Formosa Sunday.

'Going Fast,' Report Says Of Pontiff

His Holiness Given Extreme Unction, Last Rite For Dying

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—A medical bulletin late today reported progressive aggravation in the condition of Pope Pius XII. It added:

His temperature was about 101 and his pulse rate had soared to 140.

One of the physicians, declining the use of his name, said the Pope "is in his death agony."

The medical bulletin—issued at 4:11 p.m. (11:11 a.m. (DST) said:

"The syndrome (symptoms) of this morning is progressively aggravated despite energetic treatment which failed to give the hoped for results. Temperature is 38.2 (about 101 Fahrenheit); blood pressure 90 to 140.

"The pulse is fast (140); repiration 38.

"The Pope is going fast," was the word in this town where the 82-year-old spiritual leader of the Roman Catholic Church was stricken.

A member of the Papal household was reported by a Castel Gandolfo police official to have sent that message to the Italian government.

Heightening the emotional tension were false reports that the Pope had died this morning. The Italian news agency Italia issued one such report. The Vatican officially denied it.

It was reliably reported that the Pope had been given Extreme Unction — the last rite for the dying or those in danger of death — for the second time. It had been given for the first time as he lay in a coma Monday after his first stroke.

At noon (7 a.m. DST), a Vatican radio broadcaster, speaking from the Pope's antechamber, said at the time the Pope was "resting."

He added that the condition of the pontiff was unchanged from that reported in the medical bulletin which several hours before had announced the second stroke and said the Pope had made some slight improvement.

The broadcaster said the Pope's temperature was 37 degrees centigrade (98.6 Fahrenheit), normal, but his pulse was 103, very high.

The radio spokesman added that "at that moment" the pontiff was in a state of lethargy, "probably under the effects of tranquilizers administered to him."

The second attack was of the same type as that which felled the pontiff Monday, a cerebral circulatory attack which produced coma and partial paralysis.

It came on him at 7:30 a.m. 2:30 a.m., DST), just 47 hours after the first stroke.

It was learned unofficially at the Vatican press office that the Pope's heart was weakening and had become irregular after the second attack.

The Vatican radio said the pontiff had regained consciousness for a time and requested Holy Communion but was unable to swal-

White House Parley Set On Schools Issue

Liability In Case Of Distruction New Facet In Integration

By The Associated Press

A new facet of the school integration struggle—who is liable in case of destructive acts?—will be discussed during a high-level conference at the White House today.

The conference was sought with President Eisenhower by four officials from Anderson County, Tenn. after Clinton High School was wrecked by a bomb. It wasn't known whether the President would join in the talks, but special assistants Rocco Siciliano and Ed McCabe planned to meet with the Tennessee delegation.

Representing racially troubled Anderson County are Frank Wilson, acting county attorney; R. G. Crossno and O. C. Mays, School Board members; and County Judge J. D. Yarnell.

Officials estimate damage to Clinton's high school at $300,000.

The FBI pressed an investigation into the Sunday dynamite explosions.

Elsewhere on the integration front, the Norfolk, Va., City Council announced plans for a referendum to determine public sentiment on racially integrated schools.

A petition by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People seeking reopening of integration-closed schools in Fron Royal and Charlottesville, Va., will be heard today by Federal Judge John Paul.

On a more peaceable front, a Newport News minister, the Rev. John F. Williams, says Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia has promised consideration of a proposal by Williams for a biracial conference to restore "the torn-down communication lines between the races."

In Little Rock, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas accused the federal government of trying to penalize him for his fight for state's rights. He cited extra personal tax demands and "pressure in other ways." The Internal Revenue Service in Little Rock said it had erred in preparing a tax claim against Faubus, and claimed the head office in Washington knew nothing of it.

City Pupil's Body Sought In Drowning

Wellsville firemen were dragging the Ohio River off 3rd St. this afternoon for the body of an East Liverpool pupil who apparently was drowned when the youngster started down stream in a Huckleberry Finn raft episode.

Wellsville police identified the missing boy as David Casto, 13, of Lincoln Ave.

Two or three boys, students at Westgate School, were reported to have played hookey and started walking towards Wellsville. They found a makeshift raft along the river, made of an old screen door with boards nailed crosswise.

Two of the boys got on the raft and pushed themselves into the river but one, alarmed at its shaky condition, leaped back to shore. The other drifted with the current.

The boys ashore notified police when the raft occupant disappeared, authorities said, and firemen and other personnel obtained four rowboats and started dragging operations.

No body had been found at 1:30 p. m. and one of the boys was being questioned as to the veracity of their story.

The principal's office at Westgate School refused to confirm how many youngsters had remained out of classes this afternoon and referred inquiries to the police department.

Bitter Arms Debate Looms In U.N. Today

Soviets Challenged By U.S. To Make Their Aims Clear

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A bitter arms debate loomed in the U.N. today as the Soviet Union threatened to match U.S. and British nuclear weapon tests blast for blast. The United States challenged the Soviets to make clear their intentions.

The Assembly's top Political Committee was expected to give priority to the disarmament question. The Soviet Union and India put in resolutions calling for an immediate stop to nuclear tests. The United States was working on a resolution of its own.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko leveled a parting thrust at the West in a news conference on the eve of his departure today for Moscow.

He said lack of Western agreement to halt nuclear weapon tests will compel the Soviet government to continue its explosions until it has reached the total touched off by the United States and Britain combined.

The Soviet delegation said later that Gromyko was referring to the Western tests that have taken place since the Soviet Union announced March 31 that it was suspending test explosions. The Soviets resumed the tests Sept. 30, saying this was necessary because the United States and Britain had not stopped their testing.

After Gromyko's statement, the State Department queried whether the Soviet Union would accept the

Hancock Deputies 'Shake Down' Jail

After receiving a tip, Hancock County sheriff's deputies staged a "shake-down" of the County Jail at New Cumberland Tuesday and found a number of potential weapons, including a five-inch knife in the cell of John Peter Seay of Pittsburgh.

Seay was sentenced this month to life in Moundsville State Prison for the rape of a 13-year-old East Liverpool girl.

Seay, who was to be transported to Moundsville today following sentencing by Judge J. Harold Brennan, had a five-inch knife and an extension cord concealed in his cell, deputies said.

The burly dredge boat worker had boasted he would escape and has two escapes from federal prisons to back up his threats.

Deputies reported the guard will be intensified for his trip to Moundsville today.

Search of other cells disclosed three screwdrivers, a can opener, pliers, razor blades and a coat hanger. One prisoner had a trick lock in his possession — jammed with paper so that it would close but not lock completely and appear to be safe, the sheriff's office reported.

U.S. Hoping Cease-Fire To Be Permanent

Will Be Expressed To Red Chinese In Parley At Warsaw

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that Red China will convert its seven-day truce in the Formosa Strait into a permanent, dependable cease-fire.

That view will probably be expressed later this week to the Chinese Reds in diplomatic talks under way at Warsaw. U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam is scheduled to meet the Chinese envoy, Wang Ping-nan, Friday.

If the Reds are willing to extend their cease-fire indefinitely, the way will be open for active U.S.-Chinese Communist negotiations for a compromise settlement of the eight-year-old Formosa dispute. At least, it will be open so far as the United States is concerned.

But while there was hope, there was no real optimism here about a permanent cease-fire. Actually, the U.S. government does not know what the Communists aimed at in announcing Sunday that their shelling of Quemoy Island would be suspended for a full week.

Secretary of State Dulles, returning from a four-day vacation, said the halt in shooting "assures worldwide condemnation of the Chinese Communists if they again resume the fighting."

Washington's speculation that they may not start up again was based in part on the possibility that they would want to avoid such adverse public opinion.

Firemen Will Hold Simulated Run Tonight

Firemen said the run will be to the Woomer Building on Broadway near Central Station. A ladder will be set up and equipment demonstrated.

Community Fund Reaches 4th Of Goal

Contributions to the 1958-59 Community Fund have reached 25 percent of the goal with less than a week remaining in the campaign, Standley T. Hilbert, general chairman, announced today.

The contribution figure is based on returns from the Advance and Major Gifts Division and is expected to increase sharply Thursday night when the Special Gifts and Employe Divisions hold the first report meeting, according to Hilbert.

In-plant solicitation of some 10,000 workers at 50 industrial and business firms in the area got into full swing this week, Hilbert said.

The general chairman appealed to workers in all divisions to report pledges and contributions as soon as possible. He said, "This is the year the drive has got to go over the top—we can't let the kids down."

Hilbert called for vigorous work by all divisions to reach the goal of $83,173, to be used for next year's operating expenses for six member agencies of the Community Fund serving East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Wellsville.

Village Green Pair Cites Illegal Arrest In Evidence Motion

Counsel for two men facing gambling charges in connection with alleged booking of race horse bets in the Village Green tavern indicated Tuesday they will seek a jury trial after filing motions to "suppress and prohibit the use of evidence" they claim was taken by police "under illegal search and seizure and by entrapment."

The motions were filed in Municipal Court by Atty. George Aronson of East Liverpool and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville, representing Alfred Nitsche, 820 Ohio Ave., Midland, and Harry S. Pease of near Rogers, who were taken into custody Sept. 30.

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp had set next Saturday for a hearing in the case, but since the defendants filed the motions and indicated they will seek a jury trial the case will be left pending until Judge George L. Brokaw re-

$125,000 Bonds Proposed

Children's Receiving Unit Support Urged In Appeals

LISBON — Columbiana County authorities have mailed appeals to some 260 individuals, groups and organizations in the county, urging support for the proposed $125,000 bond issue for a new children's receiving home.

The letters seek "not only your vote but any and all influence you can bring" to secure passage of the issue, which will be on the Nov. 4 ballot.

The letters point out each year several hundred children go through Juvenile Court and the Welfare Department and many are kept for periods of from one or two days to a month or more.

"Often these children are picked up by police or welfare workers and are ragged, dirty and hungry," the letter explains. At present, because of lack of facilities for caring for them, the children are taken to whatever foster homes can handle them, often dividing a family among several homes.

"This is a tremendous shock to these innocent victims of parental undoing and a receiving home would provide a special place to care for them and to keep them together to lessen this shock," the appeal states.

$498,000 Issue On Ballot

Residents Plan Promotion For Stanton School Bonds

A 14-member planning committee, representing residents of the principal communities in the Stanton Local School District, was selected at a public meeting Tuesday night at Irondale to promote a $498,000 bond issue for a new elementary school.

The committee members, including residents of Irondale, Hammondsville, Empire, Brush Creek Township, Port Homer and Stratton, are to meet tonight at 7:30 (EST) in the high school at Irondale to further plans.

Stanton voters defeated a $480,000 bond issue for a new 10-room elementary building at Empire in a special election July 1, but the issue was resubmitted by unanimous vote of the Board of Education.

It was increased to $498,000 to provide funds for the installation of inside toilets at the Hammondsville building — the only school in the Stanton district now using outside facilities.

The bond issue for the consolidated school and the toilet proposal will be combined on the ballot for the Nov. 4 election.

Charles Hoobler of Irondale was named chairman of the committee for support of the issue while Lewis (Bus) Workman of near Ham-

The letters point out each year several hundred children go through Juvenile Court and the Welfare Department and many are kept for periods of from one or two days to a month or more.

"Often these children are picked up by police or welfare workers and are ragged, dirty and hungry," the letter explains. At present, because of lack of facilities for caring for them, the children are taken to whatever foster homes can handle them, often dividing a family among several homes.

"This is a tremendous shock to these innocent victims of parental undoing and a receiving home would provide a special place to care for them and to keep them together to lessen this shock," the appeal states.

U.S. Hoping Cease-Fire To Be Permanent

Will Be Expressed To Red Chinese In Parley At Warsaw

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that Red China will convert its seven-day truce in the Formosa Strait into a permanent, dependable cease-fire.

That view will probably be expressed later this week to the Chinese Reds in diplomatic talks under way at Warsaw. U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam is scheduled to meet the Chinese envoy, Wang Ping-nan, Friday.

If the Reds are willing to extend their cease-fire indefinitely, the way will be open for active U.S.-Chinese Communist negotiations for a compromise settlement of the eight-year-old Formosa dispute. At least, it will be open so far as the United States is concerned.

But while there was hope, there was no real optimism here about a permanent cease-fire. Actually, the U.S. government does not know what the Communists aimed at in announcing Sunday that their shelling of Quemoy Island would be suspended for a full week.

Secretary of State Dulles, returning from a four-day vacation, said the halt in shooting "assures worldwide condemnation of the Chinese Communists if they again resume the fighting."

Washington's speculation that they may not start up again was based in part on the possibility that they would want to avoid such adverse public opinion.

Firemen Will Hold Simulated Run Tonight

A simulated run and water tower operation will be held by city firemen tonight at 6:30, weather permitting, in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Firemen said the run will be to the Woomer Building on Broadway near Central Station. A ladder will be set up and equipment demonstrated.

Community Fund Reaches 4th Of Goal

Contributions to the 1958-59 Community Fund have reached 25 percent of the goal with less than a week remaining in the campaign, Standley T. Hilbert, general chairman, announced today.

The contribution figure is based on returns from the Advance and Major Gifts Division and is expected to increase sharply Thursday night when the Special Gifts and Employe Divisions hold the first report meeting, according to Hilbert.

In-plant solicitation of some 10,000 workers at 50 industrial and business firms in the area got into full swing this week, Hilbert said.

The general chairman appealed to workers in all divisions to report pledges and contributions as soon as possible. He said, "This is the year the drive has got to go over the top—we can't let the kids down."

Hilbert called for vigorous work by all divisions to reach the goal of $83,173, to be used for next year's operating expenses for six member agencies of the Community Fund serving East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Wellsville.

2 May Request Jury Trials In Horse Betting

Village Green Pair Cites Illegal Arrest In Evidence Motion

Counsel for two men facing gambling charges in connection with alleged booking of race horse bets in the Village Green tavern indicated Tuesday they will seek a jury trial after filing motions to "suppress and prohibit the use of evidence" they claim was taken by police "under illegal search and seizure and by entrapment."

The motions were filed in Municipal Court by Atty. George Aronson of East Liverpool and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville, representing Alfred Nitsche, 820 Ohio Ave., Midland, and Harry S. Pease of near Rogers, who were taken into custody Sept. 30.

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp had set next Saturday for a hearing in the case, but since the defendants filed the motions and indicated they will seek a jury trial the case will be left pending until Judge George L. Brokaw re-

$498,000 Issue On Ballot

Residents Plan Promotion For Stanton School Bonds

A 14-member planning committee, representing residents of the principal communities in the Stanton Local School District, was selected at a public meeting Tuesday night at Irondale to promote a $498,000 bond issue for a new elementary school.

The committee members, including residents of Irondale, Hammondsville, Empire, Brush Creek Township, Port Homer and Stratton, are to meet tonight at 7:30 (EST) in the high school at Irondale to further plans.

Stanton voters defeated a $480,000 bond issue for a new 10-room elementary building at Empire in a special election July 1, but the issue was resubmitted by unanimous vote of the Board of Education.

It was increased to $498,000 to provide funds for the installation of inside toilets at the Hammondsville building — the only school in the Stanton district now using outside facilities.

The bond issue for the consolidated school and the toilet proposal will be combined on the ballot for the Nov. 4 election.

Flash Of Light Blamed In Harvey Ave. Mishap

An Industry man whose auto struck a parked car in the rear Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. on Harvey Ave., told police he was blinded momentarily by a "flash of light," possibly a reflection from a shiny surface.

A 1958 sedan driven by R. P. Weekly, 55, of Industry R. D. 1 hit the rear of a 1957 sedan owned by Howard Vaughn, 49, of 323 Penn Ave., Midland, officers said. The crash damaged the right front of Weekly's car and the left rear of Vaughn's, officers said.

Weekly told police he was driving east about 20 to 25 miles an hour when "a flash of light hit me in the eyes." No charges were filed.

If They Worked At It

Industrialist Says U.S., Russia Could Get Along

CLEVELAND (AP) — Industrialist Cyrus Eaton came home Tuesday from a trip to the Soviet Union more convinced than ever this country and Russia could get along if they worked at it.

Arriving aboard a private plane of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., of which he is board chairman, the 74-year-old industrialist and the invalid wife he married last December, said both were impressed by the progress of the Russian people as they saw it.

Eaton renewed his plea for a summit conference between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev and an exchange of visits.

"Now is the time to get together," he said. "I am confident that in Khrushchev we have a man with whom we could deal.

"He could come to the United States and fly over our great country in the daylight. It would have a profound effect on Khrushchev. He ought to have the opportunity."

And President Eisenhower would be amazed at the dedication of the Russian people to their system, he added.

In his interview with Khrushchev, Eaton said, the Premier told him Russia and the United States could get along if each acknowledged that the other had a right to select its own form of economy and type of government.

The fundamental reason for world tension and distrust of Russia, Eaton added, "is based on the misconception of the people of the United States about the Soviet Union, its people, resources and present government." The people have been conditioned to look upon communism as a very wicked and terrible thing, he said.

Mass Meeting To Hear Both Sides Of Right-To-Work Act

Both sides of the proposed right-to-work amendment on the Nov. 4 ballot will be presented at a public meeting to be held at the Fairfield School, two miles south of Columbiana Monday at 8:30 p. m. (DST). The event is being sponsored by the Columbiana County Agricultural Council and is open to all residents.

The speaker for the amendment will be Sam Steiger of Marysville. The opponent will be James Mullen of East Liverpool, international representative of the Steelworkers Union at Midland.

Steiger is the agricultural adviser for the right-to-work campaign committee. He has spent many years in agricultural information work with various radio and TV stations and has been a farm editor and information public relations officer of the Ohio Department of Agriculture and held other positions.

He was formerly employed in the motor bus transportation industry and for several years served as chairman of the grievance committee for the Ohio Bus Line Co. local of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Hamilton. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Marysville and secretary of the agricultural division of the Marysville Chamber of Commerce.

Mullen was obtained by the Columbiana County Council of Labor Unions and has had extensive experience in the labor movement.

Atty. Howard Cole, president of the Columbiana County Board of Health, will explain the two-tenths mill health department levy to be voted on in the general health district, and Galen Greenisen, county commissioner, will discuss the bond issue for the proposed juvenile receiving home.

Rep. C. L. Wetzel will give an explanation of the proposed amendment to the constitution to permit metropolitan federation charters in Ohio counties.

The meeting is expected to draw a large attendance of both rural and urban people from all parts of the county, according to Floyd Lower, Columbiana County extension agent.

Bricker Appeals For Good Turnout Of GOP On Nov. 4

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—To an ox roast audience of about 800 U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker appealed Tuesday night for a good Republican turnout at the Nov. 4 election in order to win GOP control of Congress next year.

The senator, campaigning for a third term, blamed Republican reversals in Maine and Wisconsin on failure of registered Republicans to go to the polls.

In Maine, Bricker said, "Conditions were favorable to the other side because of extreme economic conditions there. Enough Republicans did not vote in Maine to have elected a Republican senator and governor."

This interpretation runs counter to other opinions that a considerable number of the Maine electorate switched sides in the September balloting.

In Wisconsin, Bricker said, "We lost a conservative senator and picked up an extreme radical." He asserted 65 per cent of registered Republicans failed to vote, while only 35 per cent of registered Democrats stayed away from the voting booths.

The Burden That Sobers

Associate Justice Harold H. Burton's retirement has caused another exchange of the personal letters that reveal how much personal esteem sweetens public relationships in our country at the highest level.

President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower have made it abundantly clear that they regard Justice and Mrs. Burton as personal friends. Another president, Harry Truman, had gone far out of his political way to give Mr. Burton his appointment to the Supreme Court—the first time a Democrat in the White House ever had made the gracious gesture of choosing a Republican for an appointment.

These are things to consider at a time when violent and immoderate partisans are trying to make it appear that the Supreme Court is composed of ogres and knaves. Such allegations against the character of the court's members have been frequent. The slurs are part of the job and part of the challenge of standing at the highest pinnacle of a government of law.

Members of the Supreme Court invariably are sobered by the burden laid on them by the Constitution of administering the supreme law of the United States. Whatever they have been before, the justices of the Supreme Court are expected to think and to judge as well and as wisely as their finite intelligence will permit. With rare exceptions, they have done this in a most distinguished way. Justice Burton has served the nation and all men who subscribe to its constitutional principles. He has borne the sobering burden of making wisdom from other men's conflicting views with quiet dignity.

A State With No Public Schools

If the next anti-integration move in Arkansas proves to be a move in the state legislature to ban public schools by a constitutional amendment, teachers will be as interested as legalists.

There would be dozens of difficult educational questions to answer, besides the legal questions that would be asked. For example, what would happen to public school teachers? How could they be shifted to private employment without losing the public rights they have been able to obtain over a period of years? How would they be certified for private employment, and if they were not certified how would their schools be certified so educational credits could be transferred from one school to another?

Where would the private schools obtain classroom space and what would happen to the public classrooms that belong to the school districts of Arkansas? What would be the basis of compulsory attendance? What would happen to federal aid for certain types of vocational education?

Would it be possible for an entire state to abandon overnight a statewide system of public education and begin a statewide system of private education without launching a wild adventure in educational chaos? And if additional vexation were needed, how would the per pupil distribution of state funds for education in private institutions be decided when pupils attended church-administered schools?

When the integration issue in Arkansas Virginia, or any other state is argued by legalists and politicians, it is one thing. But it becomes another thing when argued by teachers, parents and pupils, as legalists and politicians already have learned.

An attempt to shift the problem entirely to the side of education, by abolishing a politico-legal system of public schools would inaugurate an era of confusion that would last for many years, if indeed it ever could be ended at all.

Restrictions on the operation of jet airliners from Idlewild, announced last week by the Port of New York Authority, are not expected to stall the beginning of service from this country's largest airport.

They were accepted promptly by British Overseas Aircraft Corp., which started trans-Atlantic service immediately. Pan American's first overseas flights will begin Oct. 26, as scheduled.

But because Idlewild has become the testing ground for an important policy decision, every airport in the United States and the prospect of jet airliner service in other parts of the country will be influenced by its precedent.

The question is whether jet airliners are to be handicapped unduly by regulations prepared solely for them, on the claim that the noise they make is materially different from the noise made by piston planes.

There is no argument over the point that the noise they make is different. The argument is whether it is more unpleasant to the human ear and therefore more disturbing to populations near airports than the now familiar roar and rumble of piston planes.

Everything feasible has been done by manufacturers of the new jet airliners to minimize noise. But they point out that it would be absurd to force them to minimize noise at the expense of curtailing the efficiency of the planes. In the case of the Idlewild regulations, which prohibit flights during the night and restrict takeoffs and landings to certain runways, Pan American is going to argue that there should be no penalty on jet airliners in any way, shape, or form.

The same issue will come up in the case of every airport where jet airliners are used. Is a different kind of noise harder to bear merely because it is different? Experts of all shades of competency will get into the act to try to prove it is or that it isn't. But final judgment properly should be left to the same people who finally grew accustomed to the noise of piston-driven planes. They should not make up their minds until they have heard the noise.

A Barefoot Boy

Thanks to Associated Press, millions now share the curiosity of loggers, hunters, bulldozer operators and so on about king-sized footprints they have been finding near Eureka, Calif.

Two points must be noted. First, these are five-toed prints. Second, they are approximately 16 inches long and 7 inches wide. They must belong to an outsize specimen of the human race.

There is no "abominable snowman" involved. There is not even an "adominal snowman" lurking in the mystery; there is no cold front. Yet, there is an obvious suspect.

Thirty seconds with a ruler will show that a footprint 16 inches long and 7 inches wide is about right for any one of millions of big-footed teen-agers, who are notorious for having the biggest underpinning in human history. The only mystery is what the kid is doing near Eureka, Calif., in his bare feet.

Maybe someone stole his old blue suede shoes.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Question: I see where big corporations now hire consultant firms to check on intelligence, personalities, habits, hobbies and general background of wives in determining husband's qualifications for important posts. Psychological studies, written and oral tests, interviews "in depth" and even building blocks tests are imposed.

Does this cancel me out if I have been a helpful wife all my married life but I am not a wonder-girl playing with blocks and have been too busy building a home to be in top shape for breaking even with a psychologist? I'm still too deep in unwashed dishes to give a fast answer to "Was Stradivarius a California fullback, a ballet dancer or a fiddle maker?"

Can this ruin my husband's chances for promotion? Mrs. G.H.J.

Answer: You could be in a spot, gal. Employers know from experience that a wife can be a big factor in the success of a man on an important job, but tests can go too far and we think a written exam should include:

1.—Were there long years when your devotion, courage and faith helped the guy over many a rough spot and into the promotion zone?

2.—Did you do your own washing, raise the kids and patiently serve many a late meal, to the sacrifice of top-level educational pursuits?

3.—Have you been going along all these years assuming your performance as a helpful mate would mean as much to your old man's advancement as a third degree "in depth" to find out how sharp you were on Beethoven symphonies, Eugene O'Neill's latest play, the right fork and the book of the month?

Those are important questions and if a wife can come up with the right answer any boss should be impressed. If a wife is dumb, frivolous and a strain on the nerves it can make her stymie her lord and master on a big job.

But an "A" for vocational interests, hobbies and nature studies isn't a positive answer. Your impulse may be to toss the man out if he calls with a questionnaire to check your speed in identifying Rembrandt, Lord Tennyson or Whistler's Mother. (Who could blame you, especially if you're busy whipping up dinner for your man and seven kids.) But play it safe. The psychologist and his group may not know the right answers, either.

Union Gives Labor A Pane

By Victor Riesel

This undoubtedly is a story with a built-in pane in the neck to many labor leaders who forget they live in glass houses—especially these days. This could be the story of many a building trades union. It pivots, however, on just one outfit, a glaziers union. In the past few weeks, the glaziers have been forced to end a practice which has cost American families millions of dollars just to live neatly and comfortably.

Victor Riesel

This glaziers' union operated in the sprawling Chicago-Hammond, Ind., area. There, many a housewife in many a workers' community has bathroom, kitchen and medicine cabinet glass and mirrors, shower installation and shower doors which cost lots more than they should and thus jacked up the cost of homes and rents.

THIS UNION, conspiring with some contractors, according to the government, raised building costs in this fashion:

The union, an affiliate of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers Brotherhood, would insist that all glass and mirrors in all new and reconstructed homes and factories in the area had to be mounted and inserted (glazed) right on the construction site.

This meant that it could not be brought in already fixed to the cabinets, doors or windows sashes —which could have saved the construction people millions of dollars over the years.

According to the government's anti-trust indictment, the union, Local 27, forced cash payments to its members from those suppliers who did manage to sell pre-glazed doors, medicine chests, mirrored walls, etc. These payments were to make up for the loss of work the local union members in Chicago suffered.

THE GOVERNMENT reports a great volume of such pre-made window sashes and cabinets were shipped in from out of the state. Either the out-of-state suppliers paid these sums to members of Chicago Local 27 for not doing work or the union simply took the pre-glazed material, removed it from the cabinets and other parts and then just installed it all over again in the same cabinets and parts for new buildings and homes.

In other words, the out-of-state manufacturers had to pay twice for the same work. Or the Chicago builders would have to foot the bill.

This must have run into scores of millions of dollars over the decades because the Justice Department, headed by Attorney General William Rogers, estimates that in 1954 alone, there was four million dollars worth of this flat glass installed (glazed) in the Chicago area.

After the government won its case, Victor R. Hansen, assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division, said: "The effect of this union tactic was to deny to the public the benefits of costs savings in the use of pre-glazed (pre-installed) products."

BUT THIS HURT more than the general public. This Local 27 also hurt other union members. The Chicago outfit did not handle the out-of-state glass work even if it had been prepared by members of other AFL-CIO unions. The Chicago unit could stall construction simply by refusing to supply manpower to projects which used even union-made products from out of the state. The court judgment ruled that this must end, too.

The union agreed to end these practices. But only after the government had fought it for years.

Ironically, this agreement came exactly seven months after the entire AFL-CIO Construction Trades Department had publicly — very publicly, on the front pages — announced that such practices would be wiped out immediately. That was on Feb. 7.

THE AFL-CIO BUILDING and Construction Trades Department had gathered in Miami Beach. Their blazoned 10-point program said, in Point 8: "Slowdowns, forcing of overtime, spread-work tactics, standby crews and featherbedding practices have been and are condemned."

Apparently this was intended to apply equally to all unions—but some unions still believe they are more equal than others. Is this good public relations at a time like this?

California Confusion

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

Political contests in California have long been marked by interests and angles unparalleled in any other state. This year is the most unusual of all. And the political, economic, and social stakes are higher. It is not strange that the eyes of the nation are turned this way.

At the center of interest are the contest for the governorship between Sen. William Knowland and Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, and the effort to put into the state constitution a prohibition against compulsory union membership as a condition of employment under a labor - management contract.

The Knowland-Brown and right-to-work issues are closely related because the candidates are on opposite sides on the right-to-work issue. However, the backers of the amendment are conducting their own campaign, and the Republican organization and its contributors are for Knowland.

WHILE MOST PEOPLE, including substantial contributors, are for Knowland and right-to-work, there are some who put the two on a priority basis.

On the one hand are people who regard the possession of the governorship as secondary to the establishment of the principle of voluntary unionism.

Others say that it will be of little avail to have the principle in the constitution if the governor and the legislature are hostile to any implementation of it by statute and enforcement.

A most serious complication and handicap for Knowland and right-to-work is the hostility to both of Gov. Goodwin Knight. Knight's opposition is well known and long established. He is embittered by his shift to the senatorial candidacy because of the entry of Knowland —a shift, however, in which Knowland had no part.

EFFORTS TO CREATE harmony between Knight and Knowland, in which Vice President Nixon's speeches have strongly urged the interest of party success, have failed. So there are Knight Republicans and Knowland Republicans. And since party loyalties mean little here, there are Knight Democrats and Knowland Democrats.

The odds against which Knowland has contended since the primary in June have created an element of defeatism among contributors and potential workers.

Knowland and other Republican candidates have been crippled by inadequate funds. On the other hand, powerful unions have poured money into the Brown and anti-right-to-work causes.

Basically the struggle, which mounts in intensity daily, is between the powerful local and international unions with a Democratic Party reorganized and beefed up and probably controled by the unions on one hand, and a considerable part of business management with what there is of a not-too-strong Republican Party on the other. Up to now, the former is better organized, financed, and managed.

A COMPARISON of the situation here with the Taft campaign for the Senate in Ohio in 1950 strikes me vividly. When I was in Ohio in September of that year, there was deep pessimism in the Taft camp.

Union leaders openly and most opulently were backing Taft's opponent, who had some resemblance to Brown here. But Ohio citizens, with active leadership by public - spirited management in all grades of business, and a fairly good Republican organization together with Taft's incredible campaigning, turned the tide and forged ahead in the last two weeks.

With the same awakening in California, the tide might well be turned here. For there is time and plenty of potential fluidity in California opinion. Time — a short time of two or three weeks—will tell.

The values are high. In the cases of Taft and Knowland, the public careers of big men—statesmen proved in the Senate — were and are at stake. The economic growth of the immense state of California is gravely threatened by the radical platform on which Brown is running and by the elements supporting him.

Another proposed amendment—number 17 — is so outrageous in its threat to the solvency of the state that even some Democratic candidates have come out against it.

Another proposed amendment—number 16 — threatens private schools by a denial of tax exemption. Religious bodies affected by this are furiously militant. Also involved are the prospects of California in influencing the Republican Presidential nomination in 1960. Here the concern of the Vice President must be considerable. It is a campaign almost unique in variety, interest, and complexity.

Point Of Law

By David Lawrence

Lawyers Ponder Supreme Court's Stand

Learned lawyers in different parts of the country, some of them the authors of books on constitutional law, are writing to this correspondent raising a significant question. In substance, it is whether the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States have themselves been true to their oaths to support the Constitution.

David Lawrence

It certainly is novel for the Supreme Court justices, as they did in a written opinion on Sept. 29, to be accusing the governors of states and the state legislatures of disregarding their oaths and of refusing to "obey" federal court orders because they merely try to test out new laws to get around court rulings—something Congress itself has frequently done. Here is an extract from one letter:

"The opinion rendered by the Supreme Court on Sept. 29 emphasizes that, under Article VI, the Constitution is the 'supreme law of the land' and that, in Marbury V. Madison, the principle is firmly established that it is the duty of the judicial department to say what the law is. It is further pointed out in the opinion of Sept. 29 that, under Article VI, Section 3, every legislator and executive and judicial officer is solemnly committed by oath to support this Constitution, presumably as construed by the Supreme Court.

"When six of the present justices of the Supreme Court took the oath of office to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and Domestic, the 'supreme law of the land' under Plessy V. Ferguson was that separate but equal facilities were in compliance with the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

"Are the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States also bound by their oaths to support the Constitution as previously interpreted by the Supreme Court? If not, what exempts them from the binding force of their oaths of office?"

ANOTHER LETTER points to the fact that in 1927 the Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice Taft and including such notable justices as Oliver Wendell Holmes, Louis D. Brandeis and Harlan Fiske Stone, in an unanimous opinion, known as 'Gong Lum V. Rice," said:

"The question here is whether a Chinese citizen of the United States is denied equal protection of the laws when he is classed among the colored races and furnished facilities for education equal to that offered to all, whether white, brown, yellow, or black.

"Were this a new question, it would call for every full argument and consideration, but we think that it is the same question which has been many times decided to be within the constitutional power of the state legislature to settle without intervention of the federal courts under the federal Constitution."

Another lawyer of prominence, who has argued cases before the Supreme Court and who said the 1927 case had become part of the Constitution, writes:

"What right did judges who had taken this oath have to substitute for judicial constructions of the Constitution their beliefs and opinions when those judicial constructions had become a very part of the Constitution, and on the faith of which the people of the South had expended literally billions of dollars?"

JUSTICE OLIVER Wendell Holmes once criticized, in a written opinion, the tendency of the Supreme Court to disallow state acts "which may happen to strike the majority" of its members "as for any reason undesirable."

Justice Owen Roberts, noting a long series of reversals of previous decisions, wrote in 1944 that rulings of the Supreme Court were tending "to bring adjudications of this tribunal into the same class as a restricted railroad ticket—good for this day and train only."

What is disturbing many lawyers even more, however, is the political nature of the Sept. 29 opinion, which did not confine itself to a review of the particular case and issue that had come to the Supreme Court from the lower courts but went far afield. One important lawyer describes this deviation as follows:

"Perhaps the most glaring departure from constitutional government, the law of the land, and the role of the courts is that, for the first time in the history of the government, the Supreme Court renders an advisory opinion, apparently timed to control the judges of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals on the case involving the private-school plan, which had not even been argued and was not before the court."

This correspondent's mail from all parts of the country shows grave concern by lawyers everywhere as to the departures of the Supreme Court from historic judicial procedures.

Apartness

By Truman Twill

Next to rediscovery of a cigaret that can be set afire at either end, the longest stride in current progress is being made by house designers.

These geniuses of the T-square have rediscovered the "box" house. It's the one in which you lift one leg at a time until you reach an upper level by means of a clever device known as a staircase.

Strokes of insight like this and the recent rediscovery of auto engines that will run on plain, ordinary gasoline reassure skeptics who wonder whether progress in reverse is the same as progress in a forward direction.

Progress is progress. If it helps human beings to get along with less strain and sweat, it's entitled to the benefit of the doubt. Take the matter of the house with a staircase in it.

Some of us who are not exactly antidiluvian can remember houses that had three staircases in them and people living on four levels under the same roof.

It is not the kind of thing an old-timer shouts from the housetops, but a not uncommon practice at one time was to keep the little kids on the top level, up under the eaves, in a place variously known as an attic and a third floor.

On the second floor there was a storage level for humans, too, featuring bedrooms, bathrooms and sometimes a place called a sewing room, or an upstairs sitting room.

On the first floor, where designers recently have been putting all the rooms, there was an assortment of spaces centered on the hub of family activity, the kitchen.

Underneath the whole "box" was an enormous basement, stuffed full of the same clutter now found in the garage, or in some special wing or room for the housing of hobbies, recreations etc.

The arrangement came straight from the horse-and-buggy era, but it worked, because it enabled all the inmates of a house to stay out of one another's hair, when that became necessary — as it often did. There's a limit to Togetherness.

At a given moment, the old man might be working out a grudge against the circumstances of his life by splitting kindling in the basement, while Sis was rolling her eyes at a beau in the living room, Brother was eating a snack in the kitchen, Mom was quieting her nerves with needlework in the sewing room and a couple of birdlings were slumbering up under the eaves.

There were infinite varieties of arrangements that could be worked out. Even an invasion of relatives created no problem, because there always were a couple of bedrooms that no one was using regularly. The "box" house was as flexible as a politician's conscience.

It is encouraging to note that house designers are giving attention again to the exciting possibilities of Apartness as the alternative to too much Togetherness. Too much of the latter can be like too much garlic. Overwhelming.

The Burden That Sobers

Associate Justice Harold H. Burton's retirement has caused another exchange of the personal letters that reveal how much personal esteem sweetens public relationships in our country at the highest level.

President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower have made it abundantly clear that they regard Justice and Mrs. Burton as personal friends. Another president, Harry Truman, had gone far out of his political way to give Mr. Burton his appointment to the Supreme Court—the first time a Democrat in the White House ever had made the gracious gesture of choosing a Republican for an appointment.

These are things to consider at a time when violent and immoderate partisans are trying to make it appear that the Supreme Court is composed of ogres and knaves. Such allegations against the character of the court's members have been frequent. The slurs are part of the job and part of the challenge of standing at the highest pinnacle of a government of law.

Members of the Supreme Court invariably are sobered by the burden laid on them by the Constitution of administering the supreme law of the United States. Whatever they have been before, the justices of the Supreme Court are expected to think and to judge as well and as wisely as their finite intelligence will permit. With rare exceptions, they have done this in a most distinguished way. Justice Burton has served the nation and all men who subscribe to its constitutional principles. He has borne the sobering burden of making wisdom from other men's conflicting views with quiet dignity.

A State With No Public Schools

If the next anti-integration move in Arkansas proves to be a move in the state legislature to ban public schools by a constitutional amendment, teachers will be as interested as legalists.

There would be dozens of difficult educational questions to answer, besides the legal questions that would be asked. For example, what would happen to public school teachers? How could they be shifted to private employment without losing the public rights they have been able to obtain over a period of years? How would they be certified for private employment, and if they were not certified how would their schools be certified so educational credits could be transferred from one school to another?

Where would the private schools obtain classroom space and what would happen to the public classrooms that belong to the school districts of Arkansas? What would be the basis of compulsory attendance? What would happen to federal aid for certain types of vocational education?

Would it be possible for an entire state to abandon overnight a statewide system of public education and begin a statewide system of private education without launching a wild adventure in educational chaos? And if additional vexation were needed, how would the per pupil distribution of state funds for education in private institutions be decided when pupils attended church-administered schools?

When the integration issue in Arkansas Virginia, or any other state is argued by legalists and politicians, it is one thing. But it becomes another thing when argued by teachers, parents and pupils, as legalists and politicians already have learned.

There, many a housewife in many a workers' community has bathroom, kitchen and medicine cabinet glass and mirrors, shower installation and shower doors which cost lots more than they should and thus jacked up the cost of homes and rents.

THIS UNION, conspiring with some contractors, according to the government, raised building costs in this fashion:

The union, an affiliate of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers Brotherhood, would insist that all glass and mirrors in all new and reconstructed homes and factories in the area had to be mounted and inserted (glazed) right on the construction site.

This meant that it could not be brought in already fixed to the cabinets, doors or windows sashes —which could have saved the construction people millions of dollars over the years.

According to the government's anti-trust indictment, the union, Local 27, forced cash payments to its members from those suppliers who did manage to sell pre-glazed doors, medicine chests, mirrored walls, etc. These payments were to make up for the loss of work the local union members in Chicago suffered.

THE GOVERNMENT reports a great volume of such pre-made window sashes and cabinets were shipped in from out of the state. Either the out-of-state suppliers paid these sums to members of Chicago Local 27 for not doing work or the union simply took the pre-glazed material, removed it from the cabinets and other parts and then just installed it all over again in the same cabinets and parts for new buildings and homes.

In other words, the out-of-state manufacturers had to pay twice for the same work. Or the Chicago builders would have to foot the bill.

This must have run into scores of millions of dollars over the decades because the Justice Department, headed by Attorney General William Rogers, estimates that in 1954 alone, there was four million dollars worth of this flat glass installed (glazed) in the Chicago area.

After the government won its case, Victor R. Hansen, assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division, said: "The effect of this union tactic was to deny to the public the benefits of costs savings in the use of pre-glazed (pre-installed) products."

BUT THIS HURT more than the general public. This Local 27 also hurt other union members. The Chicago outfit did not handle the out-of-state glass work even if it had been prepared by members of other AFL-CIO unions. The Chicago unit could stall construction simply by refusing to supply manpower to projects which used even union-made products from out of the state. The court judgment ruled that this must end, too.

The union agreed to end these practices. But only after the government had fought it for years.

Ironically, this agreement came exactly seven months after the entire AFL-CIO Construction Trades Department had publicly — very publicly, on the front pages — announced that such practices would be wiped out immediately. That was on Feb. 7.

THE AFL-CIO BUILDING and Construction Trades Department had gathered in Miami Beach. Their blazoned 10-point program said, in Point 8: "Slowdowns, forcing of overtime, spread-work tactics, standby crews and featherbedding practices have been and are condemned."

Apparently this was intended to apply equally to all unions—but some unions still believe they are more equal than others. Is this good public relations at a time like this?

California Confusion

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

Political contests in California have long been marked by interests and angles unparalleled in any other state. This year is the most unusual of all. And the political, economic, and social stakes are higher. It is not strange that the eyes of the nation are turned this way.

At the center of interest are the contest for the governorship between Sen. William Knowland and Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, and the effort to put into the state constitution a prohibition against compulsory union membership as a condition of employment under a labor - management contract.

The Knowland-Brown and right-to-work issues are closely related because the candidates are on opposite sides on the right-to-work issue. However, the backers of the amendment are conducting their own campaign, and the Republican organization and its contributors are for Knowland.

WHILE MOST PEOPLE, including substantial contributors, are for Knowland and right-to-work, there are some who put the two on a priority basis.

On the one hand are people who regard the possession of the governorship as secondary to the establishment of the principle of voluntary unionism.

Others say that it will be of little avail to have the principle in the constitution if the governor and the legislature are hostile to any implementation of it by statute and enforcement.

A most serious complication and handicap for Knowland and right-to-work is the hostility to both of Gov. Goodwin Knight. Knight's opposition is well known and long established. He is embittered by his shift to the senatorial candidacy because of the entry of Knowland —a shift, however, in which Knowland had no part.

EFFORTS TO CREATE harmony between Knight and Knowland, in which Vice President Nixon's speeches have strongly urged the interest of party success, have failed. So there are Knight Republicans and Knowland Republicans. And since party loyalties mean little here, there are Knight Democrats and Knowland Democrats.

The odds against which Knowland has contended since the primary in June have created an element of defeatism among contributors and potential workers.

Knowland and other Republican candidates have been crippled by inadequate funds. On the other hand, powerful unions have poured money into the Brown and anti-right-to-work causes.

Basically the struggle, which mounts in intensity daily, is between the powerful local and international unions with a Democratic Party reorganized and beefed up and probably controled by the unions on one hand, and a considerable part of business management with what there is of a not-too-strong Republican Party on the other. Up to now, the former is better organized, financed, and managed.

A COMPARISON of the situation here with the Taft campaign for the Senate in Ohio in 1950 strikes me vividly. When I was in Ohio in September of that year, there was deep pessimism in the Taft camp.

Union leaders openly and most opulently were backing Taft's opponent, who had some resemblance to Brown here. But Ohio citizens, with active leadership by public - spirited management in all grades of business, and a fairly good Republican organization together with Taft's incredible campaigning, turned the tide and forged ahead in the last two weeks.

With the same awakening in California, the tide might well be turned here. For there is time and plenty of potential fluidity in California opinion. Time — a short time of two or three weeks—will tell.

The values are high. In the cases of Taft and Knowland, the public careers of big men—statesmen proved in the Senate — were and are at stake. The economic growth of the immense state of California is gravely threatened by the radical platform on which Brown is running and by the elements supporting him.

Another proposed amendment—number 17 — is so outrageous in its threat to the solvency of the state that even some Democratic candidates have come out against it.

Another proposed amendment—number 16 — threatens private schools by a denial of tax exemption. Religious bodies affected by this are furiously militant. Also involved are the prospects of California in influencing the Republican Presidential nomination in 1960. Here the concern of the Vice President must be considerable. It is a campaign almost unique in variety, interest, and complexity.

Point Of Law

By David Lawrence

Lawyers Ponder Supreme Court's Stand

Learned lawyers in different parts of the country, some of them the authors of books on constitutional law, are writing to this correspondent raising a significant question. In substance, it is whether the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States have themselves been true to their oaths to support the Constitution.

David Lawrence

It certainly is novel for the Supreme Court justices, as they did in a written opinion on Sept. 29, to be accusing the governors of states and the state legislatures of disregarding their oaths and of refusing to "obey" federal court orders because they merely try to test out new laws to get around court rulings—something Congress itself has frequently done. Here is an extract from one letter:

"The opinion rendered by the Supreme Court on Sept. 29 emphasizes that, under Article VI, the Constitution is the 'supreme law of the land' and that, in Marbury V. Madison, the principle is firmly established that it is the duty of the judicial department to say what the law is. It is further pointed out in the opinion of Sept. 29 that, under Article VI, Section 3, every legislator and executive and judicial officer is solemnly committed by oath to support this Constitution, presumably as construed by the Supreme Court.

"When six of the present justices of the Supreme Court took the oath of office to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and Domestic, the 'supreme law of the land' under Plessy V. Ferguson was that separate but equal facilities were in compliance with the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

"Are the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States also bound by their oaths to support the Constitution as previously interpreted by the Supreme Court? If not, what exempts them from the binding force of their oaths of office?"

ANOTHER LETTER points to the fact that in 1927 the Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice Taft and including such notable justices as Oliver Wendell Holmes, Louis D. Brandeis and Harlan Fiske Stone, in an unanimous opinion, known as 'Gong Lum V. Rice," said:

"The question here is whether a Chinese citizen of the United States is denied equal protection of the laws when he is classed among the colored races and furnished facilities for education equal to that offered to all, whether white, brown, yellow, or black.

"Were this a new question, it would call for every full argument and consideration, but we think that it is the same question which has been many times decided to be within the constitutional power of the state legislature to settle without intervention of the federal courts under the federal Constitution."

Another lawyer of prominence, who has argued cases before the Supreme Court and who said the 1927 case had become part of the Constitution, writes:

"What right did judges who had taken this oath have to substitute for judicial constructions of the Constitution their beliefs and opinions when those judicial constructions had become a very part of the Constitution, and on the faith of which the people of the South had expended literally billions of dollars?"

JUSTICE OLIVER Wendell Holmes once criticized, in a written opinion, the tendency of the Supreme Court to disallow state acts "which may happen to strike the majority" of its members "as for any reason undesirable."

Justice Owen Roberts, noting a long series of reversals of previous decisions, wrote in 1944 that rulings of the Supreme Court were tending "to bring adjudications of this tribunal into the same class as a restricted railroad ticket—good for this day and train only."

What is disturbing many lawyers even more, however, is the political nature of the Sept. 29 opinion, which did not confine itself to a review of the particular case and issue that had come to the Supreme Court from the lower courts but went far afield. One important lawyer describes this deviation as follows:

"Perhaps the most glaring departure from constitutional government, the law of the land, and the role of the courts is that, for the first time in the history of the government, the Supreme Court renders an advisory opinion, apparently timed to control the judges of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals on the case involving the private-school plan, which had not even been argued and was not before the court."

This correspondent's mail from all parts of the country shows grave concern by lawyers everywhere as to the departures of the Supreme Court from historic judicial procedures.

Apartness

By Truman Twill

Next to rediscovery of a cigaret that can be set afire at either end, the longest stride in current progress is being made by house designers.

These geniuses of the T-square have rediscovered the "box" house. It's the one in which you lift one leg at a time until you reach an upper level by means of a clever device known as a staircase.

Strokes of insight like this and the recent rediscovery of auto engines that will run on plain, ordinary gasoline reassure skeptics who wonder whether progress in reverse is the same as progress in a forward direction.

Progress is progress. If it helps human beings to get along with less strain and sweat, it's entitled to the benefit of the doubt. Take the matter of the house with a staircase in it.

Some of us who are not exactly antidiluvian can remember houses that had three staircases in them and people living on four levels under the same roof.

It is not the kind of thing an old-timer shouts from the housetops, but a not uncommon practice at one time was to keep the little kids on the top level, up under the eaves, in a place variously known as an attic and a third floor.

On the second floor there was a storage level for humans, too, featuring bedrooms, bathrooms and sometimes a place called a sewing room, or an upstairs sitting room.

On the first floor, where designers recently have been putting all the rooms, there was an assortment of spaces centered on the hub of family activity, the kitchen.

Underneath the whole "box" was an enormous basement, stuffed full of the same clutter now found in the garage, or in some special wing or room for the housing of hobbies, recreations etc.

The arrangement came straight from the horse-and-buggy era, but it worked, because it enabled all the inmates of a house to stay out of one another's hair, when that became necessary — as it often did. There's a limit to Togetherness.

At a given moment, the old man might be working out a grudge against the circumstances of his life by splitting kindling in the basement, while Sis was rolling her eyes at a beau in the living room, Brother was eating a snack in the kitchen, Mom was quieting her nerves with needlework in the sewing room and a couple of birdlings were slumbering up under the eaves.

There were infinite varieties of arrangements that could be worked out. Even an invasion of relatives created no problem, because there always were a couple of bedrooms that no one was using regularly. The "box" house was as flexible as a politician's conscience.

It is encouraging to note that house designers are giving attention again to the exciting possibilities of Apartness as the alternative to too much Togetherness. Too much of the latter can be like too much garlic. Overwhelming.

O'Neill To Urge Technical Study Centers In Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—Young persons not interested in bachelor's degrees but who want advanced education should have an opportunity to attend technical institutions and training centers, Gov. C. William O'Neill said here Tuesday.

The Republican candidate for re-election said he would recommend establishment of such training centers in Cuyahoga County.

Addressing a Fairview Park audience of 450 in the second of his "Family Night" dinner series here, O'Neill promised to go on a statewide television hookup next week to discuss his support for issue No. 2, a proposed constitutional amendment to regulate labor contracts.

He said he would tell about corruption in labor leadership, intimidation, boycotts, and false information.

Chase Of Girl Friend Costs Lisbon Youth $20

SALINEVILLE — A 19-year-old Lisbon driver, who discovered his girl in the car of another youth and gave chase in bumper-to-bumper fashion Tuesday night, was fined $20 and costs for reckless operation by Mayor Karl Lindner.

Wilfred Carlisle was cited by a State Highway Patrolman on Route 164 north. He said he saw his girl in the other car and gave chase. The patrolman, who passed the two cars, turned around and overtook them, finding both stopped in the roadway with the Lisbon driver's car having passed and halted the other.

Little Rock Unit Cautious On New Bid

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock Private School Corp. moved cautiously today toward overcoming federal obstacles to setting up all-white private schools.

Corporation officials promised a statement later this week on an opening date.

Definite plans on how the corporation intends to tackle the many blocks facing it were clouded by reticence of officials to disclose information.

A federal court order prevents buildings of the city's four high schools, closed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to thwart integration, from being used by the private corporation. Little Rock public school teachers also are barred by the court from aiding the group.

W. C. Brashears, a retired public school principal named by the corporation to head the private schools, planned to start interviewing prospective teachers in an effort to begin classes as soon as possible.

He said applications had come in from many parts of the country.

Gov. Faubus, central figure in the historic federal-state struggle here, threw a new punch at the federal government Tuesday with a charge that officials were trying to intimidate him by assessing him extra personal income taxes.

The government denied the charge, which sprang from a form letter which the Internal Revenue Service later told the governor had been issued prematurely.

Faubus said the government had sought back taxes on items covering a three-year period, including rental of the official mansion and salaries of servants.

Digging Devices Worried Man In Earth-Rock Slide

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — What does a man buried under 100 tons of rock and earth think about?

Those digging machines that are biting down to free him, says Carlos Ramirez. He was buried for 90 minutes Tuesday in a quarry rockslide..

"I've seen a couple of fellows killed by machines trying to dig them up," said Ramirez, who came through the ordeal with only minor injuries.

"I thought that might happen to me, but I still couldn't move. So what could I do?"

The steel helmet he wore saved his life. It made an air pocket over his head.

He was planting explosives at the base of a 150-foot cliff when the slide buried him. A steam shovel went to work and removed 40 tons of earth and rock. A smaller machine was sent in and removed another 60 tons. Fellow workers then started in with hand shovels.

Ramirez, 54, was motionless when he was uncovered.

mondsville was selected co-chairman and Keith Cline of Irondale secretary.

Asked to lead the campaign in the respective communities were Raymond Patton and Hutchinson Hart of Irondale, Mrs. Eva Parsons and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Hammondsville, Hugh Suthern and Mrs. Caroline Mushrush of Empire, Charles Sprouse and Martha Boyd of Brush Creek Township, Edna Haught and Rose Flanagan of Port Homer, and the Rev. Dominick Prosperi of Stratton.

Stanton school officials stressed the urgent need of the consolidated building for the riverfront pupils because the present Stratton, with two teachers and eight grades, fails to meet requirements of recently-adopted standards of the State Department of Education.

Board officials have pointed out that the Empire building is in "poor" condition and "unfit for school purposes," while the Port Homer building is to be eliminated because of the relocation of State Route 7.

The board added that the school system would be in a "deplorable" situation if the new building is not constructed soon.

In the July election, the bond issue was defeated by a vote of 515 to 409, and lost badly in the Port Homer and Stratton areas. Hammondsville voters also rejected it.

While a 60- per cent affirmative vote was required for passage of the $480,000 plan in July, only 55 per cent is required in November, according to officials. The proposed Empire building was designed by Robert Beatty of East Liverpool.

Music Lovers Are Put To Most Trying Test

BOSTON (AP)—Seldom has man's love of good music been put to so trying a test.

During a concert under the stars at the Esplanade on Boston's Charles River the audience was drenched by a torrential downpour. The conductor considered calling off the concert but some 3,000 listeners held their ground.

The music lovers were put to still another test. Brahms First Symphony-against a backdrop of thunder and lightning-took on an unfamiliar Wagnerian touch.

Pike Budget Boosted

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 1959 preliminary budget of $4,845,000—up $58,00 from this year's — was approved by the Ohio Turnpike Commission Tuesday. Most of an estimated $21,450,000 income must be set aside for repayment of bonds, interest and reserves. Chairman James W. Shocknessy reported he still is awaiting an answer from the Ohio Highway Patrol on his request that radar equipment be used to enforce speed limit on the toll road.

Farmers Cautioned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Oct. 10 is the deadline for Ohio farmers to sign up for the 1959 conservation soil bank program. The program, set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is designed to limit crop surpluses and in some cases to increase game and fish protection.

U.S. Foreign Policy Takes Political Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign policy ballooned into a major campaign issue today with Democrats and Republicans trading stinging criticisms of each other's approach to handling international communism.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler lashed out Tuesday night at what they called the Eisenhower administration's attempt to impose political censorship on critics of its foreign policies.

The twin blasts indicated the Democrats intend to keep on discussing the issue until election day.

Republicans in turn attacked the Democratic criticisms.

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said the Democrats "seem politically willing to undermine American diplomacy during this most serious challenge." He accused them of favoring appeasement of Red China in the Quemoy crisis.

GOP National Committee spokesmen said they expect Eisenhower to have some sharp words for his critics when the President begins personal campaigning next week.

Humphrey, vice chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, accused Eisenhower of attempting "to stifle public discussion of the Quemoy crisis."

The senator, in a speech to the International Chemical Workers Union, said: "Such political censorship can only lead to one conclusion: that administration policies can't stand public examination."

In a similar vein, Butler said the administration is trying to make it appear that criticism of its foreign policy is "somehow treasonable."

Butler, speaking to a Democratic dinner in Wichita, Kan., called this a "despicable tendency of this desperate administration."

Dig Those Nutty Spuds Grown In Dixieland

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Dig those nutty spuds!

Inside very potato in a five-pound bag she purchased, Mrs. Gustave A. Oster III found a nut-like object which tasted vaguely like a walnut or a waterchestnut.

An agricultural expert theorized the potatoes were grown in either Virginia or North Carolina. In these states, he noted, there is a growth called "nut grass."

He suggested that the grass had been so thick in the potato fields as to penetrate the potatoes, growing their nuts inside. But the official, a potato expert for some 40 years, said he had never heard of a whole field of potatoes being so affected.

Peters Loses Bid To Escape Electric Chair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleo Eugene Peters, 20, today lost his fight to escape Ohio's electric chair for the robbery-slaying of Amish farmer Paul M. Coblentz in Holmes County.

The State Supreme Court rejected Peters' appeal from his first-degree murder conviction and scheduled his execution for Nov. 7 in Ohio Penitentiary. The appeal postponed the execution previously scheduled for Sept. 8.

The high court also turned down the appeal of Walter J. Byomin, 41, Cleveland, from his first-degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Deputy Edmund G. Smith of Wellington.

Byomin's execution in the electric chair also was set for Nov. 7. His appeal postponed the electrocution that had been scheduled for last May.

Peters was convicted with Michael G. Dumoulin for the fatal shooting of Coblentz in his home near Mount Hope on July 18, 1957. Dumoulin was convicted of first-degree murder with a recommendation of mercy and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Peters, of Muscatine, Iowa, came to Wooster to meet his friend, Dumoulin, the day before the slaying. The pair was captured in Lacon, Ill., and returned to Ohio after signing confessions.

Byomin shot down Smith on May 4, 1957, as the special officer sought to arrest him. The officer wanted to question Byomin about an argument over his attentions to Mrs. Helen Konicek Bristow despite objections of her relatives and others.

Peters Loses Bid To Escape Electric Chair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleo Eugene Peters, 20, today lost his fight to escape Ohio's electric chair for the robbery-slaying of Amish farmer Paul M. Coblentz in Holmes County.

The State Supreme Court rejected Peters' appeal from his first-degree murder conviction and scheduled his execution for Nov. 7 in Ohio Penitentiary. The appeal postponed the execution previously scheduled for Sept. 8.

The high court also turned down the appeal of Walter J. Byomin, 41, Cleveland, from his first-degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Deputy Edmund G. Smith of Wellington.

Byomin's execution in the electric chair also was set for Nov. 7. His appeal postponed the electrocution that had been scheduled for last May.

Peters was convicted with Michael G. Dumoulin for the fatal shooting of Coblentz in his home near Mount Hope on July 18, 1957. Dumoulin was convicted of first-degree murder with a recommendation of mercy and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Peters, of Muscatine, Iowa, came to Wooster to meet his friend, Dumoulin, the day before the slaying. The pair was captured in Lacon, Ill., and returned to Ohio after signing confessions.

Byomin shot down Smith on May 4, 1957, as the special officer sought to arrest him. The officer wanted to question Byomin about an argument over his attentions to Mrs. Helen Konicek Bristow despite objections of her relatives and others.

The group will co-operate with other PTA's of the city by assuming a share of the cost of safety pamphlets to be distributed to the school children under the sponsorship of the Child Guidance Council. The attendance banner was won by the first grade of Mrs. Gladys McIntosh. Refreshments were served by first grade homeroom mothers.

Jury Trial

turns from vacation, probably next Monday.

Atty. Kapp, who has been substituting on the bench for Judge Brokaw, said he feels the judge should rule on the defense motion and then set a new trial date. Both Nitsche and Pease entered not guilty pleas when arraigned Oct. 1. They are free on $500 bonds.

Based on a week-long undercover investigation made by two agents of the State Liquor Control Department, Pease is accused of being the keeper of a place that he permitted to be used for recording wagers. Nitsche is accused of accepting a $10 horse race bet from Agent Frank M. Acton, who signed both charges.

Identical motions were filed on behalf of the two defendants. They allege that "all and each and every part of said evidence has been taken by the officers involved under illegal search and seizure and by entrapment."

The motions specifically ask for return of this seized evidence:

"Three horse race tickets of Waterford Park dated Sept. 27, 1958, each setting out horse No. 1 in the 9th race, two being for $10 each and a third for $2; one result sheet dated Oct. 4, 1958, and Oct. 3, 1958; one morning line sheet at Waterford Downs Race Track, dated June 17, 1958, in which there appears certain names and amounts; five night sheets — no marks or handwriting thereon — dated Sept. 22, 1958."

In a separate paragraph, the motion asks return to "the $10 bill number D-9147489-A as taken by the officers and that any evidence thereon be suppressed."

Eligible Voters Bared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A total of 5,200,000 Ohioans will be eligible to vote in the Nov. 4 election, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown estimates. The state's chief election officer said this estimate includes 126,000 new voters—those just turned 21 and new residents.

Pope

low the host, the thin wafer of unleavened bread representing the body and blood of Christ.

He was then given Absolution—forgiveness of sins—and apparently became unconscious again soon after.

Prelates of the pontifical court were called urgently to Castel Gandolfo, presumably to make initial arrangements in connection with the grave turn in the pontiff's condition and its possible consequences.

Three of the four specialists who had been keeping constant vigil at the Pope's bedside were with him when the second stroke came.

The Rev. Francesco Pellegrini, a noted Jesuit orator, told the radio audience that "a new factor which was anything but tranquilizing" had struck the pontiff.

"This is not a good sign." Father Pellegrini said. He added that, contrary to the hopeful atmosphere at Castel Gandolfo Tuesday, today there was only anxiety and frantic anxiety.

It was the second time the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church and spiritual leader of some 500 million Catholics has been near death.

Four years ago a serious illness struck the pontiff, 261st in a long series of sovereigns who sat on St. Peter's throne.

At that time the Pope rallied and recovered because of what was described as "the heart of a lion."

He regained his strength and once again assumed a tremendous burden of work that has generally been considered one of the heaviest ever carried by a pope in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church.

The pontiff carried that burden fully, often despite medical advice.

Last week he suffered a recurrence of the hiccups and gastritis with which his illness began four years ago. He persisted in his heavy load of administrative work and audiences here at the papal summer residence, but finally curtailed his program at his doctors' insistence over the weekend.

Moments before he was struck down Monday he had said Mass at the little private chapel of his summer residence and received communion. He was preparing to resume work in his private library when the attack hit him.

"My God! I cannot see! I cannot see!" he was quoted as saying.

As he had four years ago, the pontiff showed great powers of will and physical endurance. Again he rallied and for a time it was hoped he was once more on the way to recovery.

British and American invitation to join in a one-year suspension of nuclear weapon tests beginning Oct. 31. On that date the Big Three meet in Geneva to try to negotiate a permanent ban on the testing.

Some Western circles viewed Gromyko's warning as partly a propaganda move and partly an apology for the Soviet Union's having resumed tests after announcing a unilaterial decision to suspend them.

Other times, girls under court custody or slated for transportation to the Girls Industrial School or a maternity home need a place to stay. At present the only facilities open are at the County Jail, and, authorities said, "No child should be kept where adult prisoners are also housed."

The proposed receiving home, the cost of which will include $50,000 from the sale of the county's share of the Fairmont Children's Home, would provide special facilities for these young people.

It would be built on land now owned by the county near the County Home, and would have facilities for 10 boys and 10 girls. It would be supervised 24 hours a day and its expenses would largely be paid by the welfare department funds now being used for foster homes to care for such cases.

Under present plans, no child would be kept more than 30 days, by which time the court and welfare department would be able to work out a permanent solution to the child's problem.

"We are quite sure your pride in our county, the humanity in your hearts will enable you to vote for this project and to use every influence you have to see that we can treat our children like human beings instead of criminals."

The letter is signed by Galen Greenisen, Richard Brian and W. A. Hunston, commissioners, Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and Robert Bycroft, welfare director.

where the court ruled for prompt integration.

Stewart said his selection took him by surprise. He came here Tuesday morning for a conference with Eisenhower after a rush call from Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

Five of the nine Supreme Court justices, including Chief Justice Earl Warren, now have been appointed by Eisenhower. The political division remains at five Democrats and four Republicans.

Jury Trial

turns from vacation, probably next Monday.

Atty. Kapp, who has been substituting on the bench for Judge Brokaw, said he feels the judge should rule on the defense motion and then set a new trial date. Both Nitsche and Pease entered not guilty pleas when arraigned Oct. 1. They are free on $500 bonds.

Based on a week-long undercover investigation made by two agents of the State Liquor Control Department, Pease is accused of being the keeper of a place that he permitted to be used for recording wagers. Nitsche is accused of accepting a $10 horse race bet from Agent Frank M. Acton, who signed both charges.

Identical motions were filed on behalf of the two defendants. They allege that "all and each and every part of said evidence has been taken by the officers involved under illegal search and seizure and by entrapment."

The motions specifically ask for return of this seized evidence:

"Three horse race tickets of Waterford Park dated Sept. 27, 1958, each setting out horse No. 1 in the 9th race, two being for $10 each and a third for $2; one result sheet dated Oct. 4, 1958, and Oct. 3, 1958; one morning line sheet at Waterford Downs Race Track, dated June 17, 1958, in which there appears certain names and amounts; five night sheets — no marks or handwriting thereon — dated Sept. 22, 1958."

In a separate paragraph, the motion asks return to "the $10 bill number D-9147489-A as taken by the officers and that any evidence thereon be suppressed."

Pope

low the host, the thin wafer of unleavened bread representing the body and blood of Christ.

He was then given Absolution—forgiveness of sins—and apparently became unconscious again soon after.

Prelates of the pontifical court were called urgently to Castel Gandolfo, presumably to make initial arrangements in connection with the grave turn in the pontiff's condition and its possible consequences.

Three of the four specialists who had been keeping constant vigil at the Pope's bedside were with him when the second stroke came.

The Rev. Francesco Pellegrini, a noted Jesuit orator, told the radio audience that "a new factor which was anything but tranquilizing" had struck the pontiff.

"This is not a good sign," Father Pellegrini said. He added that, contrary to the hopeful atmosphere at Castel Gandolfo Tuesday, today there was only anxiety and frantic anxiety.

It was the second time the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church and spiritual leader of some 500 million Catholics has been near death.

Four years ago a serious illness struck the pontiff, 261st in a long series of sovereigns who sat on St. Peter's throne.

At that time the Pope rallied and recovered because of what was described as "the heart of a lion."

He regained his strength and once again assumed a tremendous burden of work that has generally been considered one of the heaviest ever carried by a pope in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church.

The pontiff carried that burden fully, often despite medical advice.

Last week he suffered a recurrence of the hiccups and gastritis with which his illness began four years ago. He persisted in his heavy load of administrative work and audiences here at the papal summer residence, but finally curtailed his program at his doctors' insistence over the weekend.

Moments before he was struck down Monday he had said Mass at the little private chapel of his summer residence and received communion. He was preparing to resume work in his private library when the attack hit him.

"My God! I cannot see! I cannot see!" he was quoted as saying.

As he had four years ago, the pontiff showed great powers of will and physical endurance. Again he rallied and for a time it was hoped he was once more on the way to recovery.

Some Western circles viewed Gromyko's warning as partly a propaganda move and partly an apology for the Soviet Union's having resumed tests after announcing a unilaterial decision to suspend them.

Other times, girls under court custody or slated for transportation to the Girls Industrial School or a maternity home need a place to stay. At present the only facilities open are at the County Jail, and, authorities said, "No child should be kept where adult prisoners are also housed."

The proposed receiving home, the cost of which will include $50,000 from the sale of the county's share of the Fairmont Children's Home, would provide special facilities for these young people.

It would be built on land now owned by the county near the County Home, and would have facilities for 10 boys and 10 girls. It would be supervised 24 hours a day and its expenses would largely be paid by the welfare department funds now being used for foster homes to care for such cases.

Under present plans, no child would be kept more than 30 days, by which time the court and welfare department would be able to work out a permanent solution to the child's problem.

"We are quite sure your pride in our county, the humanity in your hearts will enable you to vote for this project and to use every influence you have to see that we can treat our children like human beings instead of criminals."

The letter is signed by Galen Greenisen, Richard Brian and W. A. Hunston, commissioners, Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and Robert Bycroft, welfare director.

where the court ruled for prompt integration.

Stewart said his selection took him by surprise. He came here Tuesday morning for a conference with Eisenhower after a rush call from Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

Five of the nine Supreme Court justices, including Chief Justice Earl Warren, now have been appointed by Eisenhower. The political division remains at five Democrats and four Republicans.

Bowling Is 'Togetherness'

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—I have taken up bowling.

I do not particularly like bowling, but my boss does. So I have taken up bowling.

Bowling is the latest example—and perhaps the worst example—of that creeping paralysis of American independence known as togetherness. In bowling, the disease is carried to the ultimate. Friends bowl together. Enemies bowl together. Management and labor bowl together.

Remember when we were a nation of individualists? When a man took up a sport to get away from it all and to refuel his soul in the flories of nature? When he went off, like a man, to sit on the bank of a stream, to fish, to dream, to find himself, to find a perspective about the people he was escaping—his wife, his kids, his boss.

Now we all bowl together. And this is called healthful exercise, exhilarating and relaxing. We bowl in a sweaty smoke-filled room, where there is no natural light, no natural air, and you have a grand view of a wall. Relaxing? It has all the serenity of a shooting gallery.

It brings out the worst in people.

The women wear toreador pants. This tends to narrow them on the top and widen them in the middle, with a Freudian subconscious wish to look like bowling pins.

The men wear slacks and a frown. I almost never saw a bowler who wasn't frowning. They take the game that seriously. The good ones—even after a strike—come back to the bench frowning to let the rest of the team know they are continually aware of their responsibility to be good. The bad bowlers frown under the weight of their enormous guilt complex; they are letting their team down, which in some cases can mean their department or the whole company they're working for.

And thus vice president and secretary, man and wife, boss and slave find yet another bond in togetherness—ulcers.

You see the worst physical tortures in bowling alleys, especially as the bowler tries to keep from tottering over the foul line. He ties himself up in the air like Nijinsky in a ballet of demented anchovies. And then the poor fool falls over the foul line, and bells ring, and red lights flash, and you'd think the FBI had just nabbed Khrushchev slipping banana peels on the launching pad at Cape Canaveral.

You see the worst mental tortures in bowling alleys. An 180-bowler bowls 98, and he blames it on the fact that a woman three alleys away was whispering. He heard her in all that noise. Or he blames it on tight shoes, dust on the ball, or a speck of towel lint on the floor.

Another man throws his ball immediately into the gutter—a wooden ditch from which there is no return. His ball starts there, and it ends there in the gutter and he has no one to blame but himself. But he comes back to the bench convinced he was robbed.

All of us bowlers are completely miserable. But we do have our togetherness.

McGregor's Death Cuts Ohio's GOP Ranking In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of Rep. J. Harry McGregor leaves the Ohio Republican House delegation with only one top-ranking man on a House committee.

He is Rep. William M. McCulloch of Piqua, ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee. Should the Republicans win control of the next House—and assuming McCulloch is reelceted—he would become chairman of the powerful committee.

McGregor was the top Republican on the House Public Works Committee.

Other high ranking Republicans are Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, No. 2 man on the House Rules Committee; Rep. William A. Ayres of Akron, No 2 man on the Veterans Affairs Committee, and Rep. Frances P. Bolton, of Lyndhurst, No. 2 Republican on the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton was No. 2 ranked Republican on the Tax-Wriging Ways and Means Committee and John M. Vorys of Columbus was second ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee. But Jenkins and Vorys are retiring this year.

Taxidermist Says Big, Human Footprints 'Indian Gone Wild'

SEATTLE (AP)—A taxidermist says Big Foot, the creature whose huge, human-like footprints have the people of the Weitchpec area of northern California guessing, is an Indian gone wild.

Al Corbett said he and another Seattle taxidermist, Bob Titmus, inspected the tracks 25 miles north of Weitchpec last Saturday and found the prints to be "very large, definitely human, tracks."

Corbett said the clearest print was 16 inches long, 5 inches across at the heel and 7 inches across at the ball of the foot.

A logger in the area, Gerald Crew, last week brought out a plaster cast of a clear footprint.

"The story behind this is that there was a mentally deficient Indian boy who was kept chained by his parents," Corbett said.

"When this boy was 17 years old, 28 years ago, he broke the chains and disappeared. The Indians found his clothes but never saw him again. They said he had extremely large feet.

"We talked it over a great deal and figured this man now must be 6 feet 7 inches to 7 feet 6 inches tall. We thought he might weigh as much as 400 pounds. He made firm footprints in hard ground.

"Measuring the footprints for a distance of more than 60 feet, we found the average stride was 50 inches. We checked this against the stride of a man 6 feet 4 inches tall, with long legs, and his stride was 30 inches.

"We were told by people who saw footprints made when this unknown man was running that they were 10 feet apart.

"I know positively this is a human being.

"It seems logical that it is this Indian who disappeared and is living wild. He does his traveling at night. He has not molested anyone. We learned these tracks have been appearing for the past 10 years."

Construction Drivers Fined

Super-Dam Vehicles Go On Public Road

Seven construction truckers were fined a total of $525 at hearings Tuesday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville, All were cited in a road check held early yesterday morning at the lower end of Wellsville by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol and Howard Lisk, an inspector for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Each was fined $25 for failure to register a vehicle and $50 for failure to obtain a highway use tax permit.

They were Emmett C. Grimes of East Springfield, Barden Blizzard of Barnesville R. D. 2, John J. Henry of Empire, Ira Durn Beard of Richmond R. D. 1 and Harvey Shuman, John W. Shepherd and Jennings W. Russell, all Bloomingdale R. D. 2.

The trucks were traveling from Stratton to the site of the road project of the Codell Construction Co. of Winchester, Ky., to obtain rock for the dam. None of the trucks had license plates nor axle permits.

As long as the trucks are used on the project involved, and do not travel the highways, no license plate is required, authorities said.

Valmond Rice of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $15 and costs for reckless operation. He was arrested by the patrol.

City Firm Gets Job On Repair Of Filter Plant

The Board of Public Utilities awarded an $11,244 contract Tuesday night to the Brown & Williams Construction Co. of St. Clair Ave. for repair of damage that resulted in a fire at the water department filtration plant in Klondyke April 3.

Brown & Williams submitted the lowest of three offers when the board opened bids Sept. 30. The other bids were: Potters Construction Co. of St. Clair Plaza, $14,387, and Floyd C. Cox, Campground Rd. contractor, $12,689. The fire loss was covered by insurance.

The board took no action last night on bids for construction of a relay station on Laura Ave., deied to transfer water from the low service reservoir on Thompson Ave. to the high service storage area — the Huston Hill reservoir and the Henry Ave. standpipes.

The apparant low bid of $42,214 was more than $17,000 over the $25,000 appropriated for the project by Council. The board said it will consult with the Pittsburgh engineering firm that drew the plans and specifications before taking final action.

After the engineers' estimate was made, several items were added to the specifications that helped increase the cost. They included a concrete apron and fence around the station and installation of two valves in the lines near the reservoir.

Skipping Dessert Aids Diet Success

There is no blinking the fact that the incline to embonpoint is paved with good intentions and assorted sweets. What mental gymnastics can help the dieter deal with the course that can be the finish of the diet?

Ida Jean Kain

Desserts are no longer a temptation to this dietitian . . . my friends have cured me! At a luncheon or dinner when the dessert course is served, they all wait to see if I'm going to indulge in such fattening fare. So overweights, to get nature pulling for you, turn down seven desserts and the victory is yours.

At a dinner recently when a delectable dessert was placed in front of an overweight, she turned to me and half in fun remarked, "Do you mean I'm supposed to look at that piece of choclate cake with ice cream on the side and tell myself I would be happier not to eat it?"

NO, SUCH a bluff wouldn't work—you wouldn't really mean it. That dessert would taste wonderful as well you know.

Then what strategy would turn the trick? If you're a gal with spirit, a challenge to yourself would add a dash of zip and put you on your mettle. You could say to yourself, "Have I what it takes to turn thumbs down on that dessert? Well, do I want to be slim or don't I?"

It can be a spur of the moment decision. One overweight, while dining in a restaurant with her husband, had ordered a particularly rich dessert. When it was placed in front of her, she suddenly decided that if she ate it, all would be lost.

She said to her husband, "Darling, would you think I'd lost my mind if I left this dessert? I suddenly feel I'm ready to diet." That understanding husband immediately got up from the table, leaving his own dessert untouched.

He signaled the waitress for the check and gallantly escorted his grateful wife from the restaurant. That was an act of true love! His wife reported later that she did slim down and kept the extra pounds from returning.

Of course, it would be better not to order the dessert in the first place. Or if you are eating in a cafeteria, challenge yourself to pass by the assorted sweets on the first round.

REASON THAT if you still want dessert after you have enjoyed a good non-fattening meal, you can always come back for it. Chances are you will feel satisfied without dessert. By that plan you save 400 calories and 25 cents.

The best anchor to slimward on the dessert question is to be in the know on how to cooperate with nature to cure the craving for sweets. That's tomorrow's story.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart". Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Ohioan's Getting Jobless Benefits Under 100,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in a year, the number of Ohioans collecting regular unemployment benefits has dropped below the 100,000 mark. As of last Saturday the total stood at 99,100.

There is no blinking the fact that the incline to embonpoint is paved with good intentions and assorted sweets. What mental gymnastics can help the dieter deal with the course that can be the finish of the diet?

Ida Jean Kain

Desserts are no longer a temptation to this dietitian . . . my friends have cured me! At a luncheon or dinner when the dessert course is served, they all wait to see if I'm going to indulge in such fattening fare. So overweights, to get nature pulling for you, turn down seven desserts and the victory is yours.

At a dinner recently when a delectable dessert was placed in front of an overweight, she turned to me and half in fun remarked, "Do you mean I'm supposed to look at that piece of choclate cake with ice cream on the side and tell myself I would be happier not to eat it?"

NO, SUCH a bluff wouldn't work —you wouldn't really mean it. That dessert would taste wonderful as well you know.

Then what strategy would turn the trick? If you're a gal with spirit, a challenge to yourself would add a dash of zip and put you on your mettle. You could say to yourself, "Have I what it takes to turn thumbs down on that dessert? Well, do I want to be slim or don't I?"

It can be a spur of the moment decision. One overweight, while dining in a restaurant with her husband, had ordered a particularly rich dessert. When it was placed in front of her, she suddenly decided that if she ate it, all would be lost.

She said to her husband, "Darling, would you think I'd lost my mind if I left this dessert? I suddenly feel I'm ready to diet." That understanding husband immediately got up from the table, leaving his own dessert untouched.

He signaled the waitress for the check and gallantly escorted his grateful wife from the restaurant. That was an act of true love! His wife reported later that she did slim down and kept the extra pounds from returning.

Of course, it would be better not to order the dessert in the first place. Or if you are eating in a cafeteria, challenge yourself to pass by the assorted sweets on the first round.

REASON THAT if you still want dessert after you have enjoyed a good non-fattening meal, you can always come back for it. Chances are you will feel satisfied without dessert. By that plan you save 400 calories and 25 cents.

The best anchor to slimward on the dessert question is to be in the know on how to cooperate with nature to cure the craving for sweets. That's tomorrow's story.

Ohioan's Getting Jobless Benefits Under 100,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in a year, the number of Ohioans collecting regular unemployment benefits has dropped below the 100,000 mark. As of last Saturday the total stood at 99,100.

The combined total of those being paid regular and special benefits dropped last week to 164,325, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today. That total was nearly 6,000 below the previous week.

The number collecting special benefits—an emergency 13-week extension voted by the Legislature—has risen steadily since the program went into effect in mid-July. The first drop—about 900 — was noted last week.

The number of Ohioans exhausting their regular 26-week benefits last week was 4,009. The BUC reported 756 exhausted special benefits.

New applications for regular benefits last week, the BUC reported, numbered 13,870, about the same as the previous week.

Traffic Flow Report Made At Wellsville

Results Referred To Council As Residents Petition For Control

A survey covering the traffic flow over 15th St. for a 12-hour period from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. was presented Wellsville City Council by Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson Tuesday night.

Council had requested the survey after residents of the neighborhood petitioned that something be done to control the heavy travel of trucks and cars.

Robinson said the street is practically a main artery as four other streets dead-end on it. The truck situation was discounted as no semi-trailers travel the street. The survey shows the peak load is between 4 and 6 p. m.

Robinson said one-way traffic would create a congestion as the other streets dead-end on 15th. The street is 20 feet wide and the speed limit is 25 miles.

The survey showed a total of 3,577 vehicles, including 158 trucks and 3,419 cars, traveled the 15th St. route the day the survey was made. The trucks are all light panel, pickup or delivery vehicles, he said.

The survey was referred to the street and light committee for further study. Robinson also reported he is attempting to get the State Highway Department to paint a cener line on Main St. and Route 7 through the town.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell, water committee chairman, said his committee is studying the feasibility of setting up a Public Utilities Board to govern the water and sewage departments.

Councilman Richard Brown, chairman of the property committee, said Sterling China Co. still has not cleaned up its dump site at 13th St.

Brown also commented that the Community Fund drive being conducted in East Liverpool is hindering Wellsville's fund drives. He said Wellsville's only benefit is the YMCA. Fund workers are conducting a telephone campaign in Wellsville.

Myron Weis, Council president, said it is not a matter for Council to consider.

Councilmen Frank Wilson and Robert Runyon were reappointed to the Firemen and Police Pension Boards for another year.

Weis designated the finance committee to study what is needed in establishing a building code in the city. The Wellsville Community Improvement Council last week voted to attempt to have a code adopted, he said.

Clifford Clutter, 1715 Nevada St., made three recommendations from the audience. He said the traffic signal at 17th and Main Sts. changes from green to red in 3 seconds, thereby creating a hazard for pedestrians and other traffic. Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the light is to be replaced when funds are available.

Clutter also reported motorists are not observing a stop sign at 20th and Main and that the railroad watchman's shanty at the 18th St. crossing obstructs the view of motorists wanting to cross.

Weis said the matters will be investigated. Mayor William J. Shoub's report for September showed $1,031.70 collected in fines and fees. Reports from Auditor E. S. Davidson and Treasurer Charles W. Stewart showed balances of $153,081.72 and $153,261.60, respectively.

Council authorized that $1,000 of cemetery endowment funds be used to purchase interest-bearing government saving bonds.

Map And Photos Show District Highway Work

The material was furnished by the New Philadelphia Division 11 office of the State Highway Department and the display was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. It is highlighted by a huge aerial photo in color showing work on the Route 7 project south of Wellsville.

Smaller black and white photos depict the Route 7 job and other area highway projects and the map is marked to show recent improvements, those now under way and those proposed for the future.

300 Teenagers Fight Over Dating Of Girl

LONDON (AP) — Three hundred teen-agers battled for 40 minutes with bicycle chains, studded belts, bottles and bricks Tuesday because 14 - year-old Alan Rouse had been dating pretty Linda Litman.

Linda, a 14-year-old charmer, had been going steady with a boy from Harold Fields School. Then she switched her affections to Alan, who goes to nearly Quarles Secondary.

Harold Fields students felt honor-bound to revenge the slight. So 200 boys and their girl friends marched to the gates of Quarles. Then 100 Quarles boys sallied out to give battle. Forty minutes later police restored order.

Short-Shorts Condemned

Free Enterprise Praised At Congress Of Ohio PTA

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio's PTA leaders heard free enterprise praised and short-shorts condemned Tuesday.

These were highlights at the annual convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers. The meeting ends today.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, Topeka, Kans., lecturer, told delegates last night that the law of supply and demand is working again after a 25-year lapse. He said:

"People who have grown up in the last two decades are confused by this piddling recession.

"But they will like the rules when they are explained. We must sell the system and quit assuming they are born with free enterprise in their blood streams."

In a workshop session, a group of 40 delegates hammered out what they considered proper dress and conduct for school children.

Tabbo for girls, in addition to short-shorts, were tight skirts and sweaters and strapless gowns.

For boys, engineer boots and shoes with clips or taps would be forbidden.

"That's because spelling is just memory work," she said. "A person memorizes a list of words and then is tested. Then he can forget the words if he wants to—I always do."

She and four other high school students spoke out at a panel session on their high school work. The others were Linda Dawson, Lebanon; Jeff Manley, Portsmouth; Jamse Long, Dayton Fairview High School, and Ned Hitchcock II, Hamilton.

Delegates Tuesday also voted for an unopposed slate of state and district officers.

The officers, scheduled for installation tonight for two year terms, are Mrs. Fred C. Gerthing, Youngstown, secretary; Mrs. E. H. Tiemeyer, Cincinnati, treasurer, and five district directors—Mrs. Joseph W. Foster, Springfield; Mrs. Walter W. Denny, Columbus; Mrs. Elmer James, Alliance; Mrs. John G. Bintz, Zanesville, and Mrs. E. W. Waller, McDermott.

The convention ends tonight after an address by Judge James G. Stewart of the Ohio Supreme Court. He is father of Judge Potter Stewart, named Tuesday to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Big Source Of Obscene Literature Is Shut Off

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A major source of obscene literature circulated in northeastern Ohio has been shut off by authorities.

Police from Fremont, Cleveland and the Sandusky County Sheriff's Office raided Tex's Trading Post Tuesday. It took several trips with two station wagons and an automobile to haul away an estimated $50,000 worth of obscene films, magazines, pictures and other materials.

Cliff (Tex) Overmyer, 55, store proprietor, was arrested.

Authorities said efforts would be made to trace the store's supplier.

Police were led to the store following the arrest of a Clevelander peddling the material. The peddler was not identified by authorities.

Traffic Flow Report Made At Wellsville

Results Referred To Council As Residents Petition For Control

A survey covering the traffic flow over 15th St. for a 12-hour period from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. was presented Wellsville City Council by Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson Tuesday night.

Council had requested the survey after residents of the neighborhood petitioned that something be done to control the heavy travel of trucks and cars.

Robinson said the street is practically a main artery as four other streets dead-end on it. The truck situation was discounted as no semi-trailers travel the street. The survey shows the peak load is between 4 and 6 p. m.

Robinson said one-way traffic would create a congestion as the other streets dead-end on 15th. The street is 20 feet wide and the speed limit is 25 miles.

The survey showed a total of 3,577 vehicles, including 158 trucks and 3,419 cars, traveled the 15th St. route the day the survey was made. The trucks are all light panel, pickup or delivery vehicles, he said.

The survey was referred to the street and light committee for further study. Robinson also reported he is attempting to get the State Highway Department to paint a cener line on Main St. and Route 7 through the town.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell, water committee chairman, said his committee is studying the feasibility of setting up a Public Utilities Board to govern the water and sewage departments.

Councilman Richard Brown, chairman of the property committee, said Sterling China Co. still has not cleaned up its dump site at 13th St.

Brown also commented that the Community Fund drive being conducted in East Liverpool is hindering Wellsville's fund drives. He said Wellsville's only benefit is the YMCA. Fund workers are conducting a telephone campaign in Wellsville.

Myron Weis, Council president, said it is not a matter for Council to consider.

Councilmen Frank Wilson and Robert Runyon were reappointed to the Firemen and Police Pension Boards for another year.

Weis designated the finance committee to study what is needed in establishing a building code in the city. The Wellsville Community Improvement Council last week voted to attempt to have a code adopted, he said.

Clifford Clutter, 1715 Nevada St., made three recommendations from the audience. He said the traffic signal at 17th and Main Sts. changes from green to red in 3 seconds, thereby creating a hazard for pedestrians and other traffic. Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the light is to be replaced when funds are available.

Clutter also reported motorists are not observing a stop sign at 20th and Main and that the railroad watchman's shanty at the 18th St. crossing obstructs the view of motorists wanting to cross.

Weis said the matters will be investigated. Mayor William J. Shoub's report for September showed $1,031.70 collected in fines and fees. Reports from Auditor E. S. Davidson and Treasurer Charles W. Stewart showed balances of $153,081.72 and $153,261.60, respectively.

Council authorized that $1,000 of cemetery endowment funds be used to purchase interest-bearing government saving bonds.

Map And Photos Show District Highway Work

The material was furnished by the New Philadelphia Division 11 office of the State Highway Department and the display was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. It is highlighted by a huge aerial photo in color showing work on the Route 7 project south of Wellsville.

Smaller black and white photos depict the Route 7 job and other area highway projects and the map is marked to show recent improvements, those now under way and those proposed for the future.

300 Teenagers Fight Over Dating Of Girl

LONDON (AP) — Three hundred teen-agers battled for 40 minutes with bicycle chains, studded belts, bottles and bricks Tuesday because 14 - year-old Alan Rouse had been dating pretty Linda Litman.

Linda, a 14-year-old charmer, had been going steady with a boy from Harold Fields School. Then she switched her affections to Alan, who goes to nearly Quarles Secondary.

Harold Fields students felt honor-bound to revenge the slight. So 200 boys and their girl friends marched to the gates of Quarles. Then 100 Quarles boys sallied out to give battle. Forty minutes later police restored order.

Short-Shorts Condemned

Free Enterprise Praised At Congress Of Ohio PTA

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio's PTA leaders heard free enterprise praised and short-shorts condemned Tuesday.

These were highlights at the annual convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers. The meeting ends today.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, Topeka, Kans., lecturer, told delegates last night that the law of supply and demand is working again after a 25-year lapse. He said:

"People who have grown up in the last two decades are confused by this piddling recession.

"But they will like the rules when they are explained. We must sell the system and quit assuming they are born with free enterprise in their blood streams."

In a workshop session, a group of 40 delegates hammered out what they considered proper dress and conduct for school children.

Tabbo for girls, in addition to short-shorts, were tight skirts and sweaters and strapless gowns.

For boys, engineer boots and shoes with clips or taps would be forbidden.

"That's because spelling is just memory work," she said. "A person memorizes a list of words and then is tested. Then he can forget the words if he wants to—I always do."

She and four other high school students spoke out at a panel session on their high school work. The others were Linda Dawson, Lebanon; Jeff Manley, Portsmouth; Jamse Long, Dayton Fairview High School, and Ned Hitchcock II, Hamilton.

The officers, scheduled for installation tonight for two year terms, are Mrs. Fred C. Gerthing, Youngstown, secretary; Mrs. E. H. Tiemeyer, Cincinnati, treasurer, and five district directors—Mrs. Joseph W. Foster, Springfield; Mrs. Walter W. Denny, Columbus; Mrs. Elmer James, Alliance; Mrs. John G. Bintz, Zanesville, and Mrs. E. W. Waller, McDermott.

The convention ends tonight after an address by Judge James G. Stewart of the Ohio Supreme Court. He is father of Judge Potter Stewart, named Tuesday to the U. S. Supreme Court.

George Given Post On Board Of Merchants

Harry Y. George, operator of Litten Motor Sales on Walnut St., was elected Tuesday to represent the automotive division on the Board of Directors of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

George was named at the October meeting of the ELMA board in the Chamber of Commerce office. The board members are elected by various categories of businessmen.

The board heard talks by Earl Crytzer, chairman, John Hart and Mrs. Blanche Cook, representing the "Buy American — Buy Union Label" committee of the Trades and Labor Council. After the three committee members explained the aim of their current campaign, the ELMA board agreed to appoint a committee to meet with the "Buy American" group in the near future.

William Kozel, president, reported on plans for the local observance of National Careers in Retailing Week, scheduled Sunday through Oct. 18. Harold Allison is chairman for the observance, a joint effort of ELMA and the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club.

The board voted to co-operate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its "get-out-the-vote" campaign for the Nov. 4 general election.

Paul Bloor, chairman of a committee investigating a new schedule of store hours, submitted a report on a public opinion poll now under way in all members' stores. Ralph Finley reported for the Christmas activities committee and Wendell H. Vodrey submitted a report for the budget committee.

Kozel was authorized to appoint a committee to work out a calendar of store hours for Christmas shopping, to be presented for discussion at the next meeting Nov. 4.

HARTSVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Surprise and delight shone in a crippled boy's eyes when a 3-year-old elephant squeezed through his bedroom door.

A clown and Louis Griffin's parents crowded in too. And the 10-year-old got a taste of the Mills Bros. circus, opening here, compliments of beaming parents and Shriners.

New 3-Million Member Church

Merger Of Four Lutheran Groups Predicted By 1961

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A new three - million - member Lutheran Church could come into being in North America by 1961 if a merger of four Lutheran groups is completed on schedule, the president of the United Lutheran Church in America (ULCA) predicted today.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, in his report to the church's 21st biennial convention, gave his estimate on the time table for merger of the United Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Commissioners of the four church bodies expect to have a constitution and by-laws ready by 1960, Dr. Fry said. The constitution will then be submitted to the 1960 spring conventions of the Augustana and Finnish churches and the October meeting of the United Lutheran Church.

If approved, the constitution will be submitted for ratification to ULCA's 32 synods in the springs of 1961. It would become effective when approved by 22 of the church's 32 synods, and the other participating churches.

Dr. Fry expressed doubt that a separate merger movement now underway involving two million Lutherans would lead to a future unified Lutheran Church in America.

He referred to a proposed merger of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the American Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church into a proposed two-million-member American Lutheran church.

"The four churches that are banded together in ULCA, have a deep longing for Lutheran union . . . as soon as possible," Dr. Fry said. "What we are striving to do in the name of God is not designed to be an intermediate step looking forward to other gradual progress toward a distant goal in the misty future."

He added that a hope for unification of all Lutherans on this continent was too sweeping.

Dr. Fry said the proposed new church will have 32 synods encompassing all states and territories and eight Canadian provinces. The American Evangelical Lutheran Church and the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church would be given the choice of continuing for a few years as non-geographical synods or united at once with the appropriate territorial synod of the new church.

The city square in Venice, Italy, is noted for its pigeons.

Jury Quickly Convicts City Man In Check Case

A Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon Tuesday afternoon took 55 minutes to convict Floyd Looman, 25, of Mulberry St. on a charge of issuing fraudulent checks.

Trial of a fraudulent check indictment against Robert C. Looman of Hookstown started this morning before Judge Buzzard.

Fred Looman of Chester was convicted Oct. 3.

The three brothers were indicted by the September Grand Jury for passing checks written by Clarence O. Powell of Coraopolis, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 1-3 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Informal Talks Slated

O'Neill To Discuss Labor Racket Plank With GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill says he will meet with members of the Republican Party's platform committee today to discuss his proposed labor racketeering plank.

The governor said he would not formally appear before the committee when it is in session but would discuss proposals with them informally.

Hearings by the platform committee opened Tuesday amid predications that the GOP would take a neutral position on the hottest issue of the campaign—the proposed amendment to regulate labor contracts.

"My guess is that there will be a neutral plank," state Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), committee chairman, told newsmen.

Gov. O'Neill, who plans to make the proposed regulation a major issue in his campaign for re-election, urged a neutral stand in a letter to GOP State Chairman Ray Bliss. Rep. Elton Kile (R-Madison) an official of Ohioans for Right to Work, an organization backing the amendment, also proposed that the GOP take a neutral attitude.

Michael V. DiSalle, O'Neill's Democratic opponent, and the Democratic state platform oppose the amendment which says:

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Other proposals received by the committee at the public hearing included:

Planks urging further conservation education in the schools, a crash program to build more lakes for fishing and recreation and strengthened laws regulating strip mining. They were proposed by Joseph J. Sommer of Canton, representing the Ohio Conservation Congress.

A stand against new and increases taxes was submitted by letter from the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Louis Parahas of Uhrichsville, state chairman of an association of disabled workers, asked the committee to consider increasing payments for such workers.

West Virginia To Trim Costs In Car Tag Period

CHARLESTON (AP) — Motor Vehicles Commissioner Hubert A. Kelly announced Tuesday two economies to be put into effect in the next licensing period.

Applications next year will be sent only to owners of vehicles licensed for 1958-59. This will be done in an attempt to eliminate from the department's lists the approximately 123,000 vehicles believed to be no longer in use for which applications were sent out this year.

Permanent white plates will be issued for all state - owned trucks, like those now used on state-owned cars.

State trucks now carry the same plates as privately owned trucks. But the departments to which they belong pay no license fee.

Kelly said the innovation would save those departments, and his own, from the work involved in handling license applications annually.

He said the intention was to increase money available for road construction in the state through the economies. All motor vehicles receipts go to the State Road Commission.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average four to seven degrees above normal. Normal high 66 north, 70 south. Normal low 46-48. Temperatures much above normal Thursday and Friday then turning cooler Saturday and Sunday. Rainfall will average .75 to 1.5 inches from showers near Lake Erie Thursday or Friday and more general rain Saturday, Sunday and possibly Monday.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

School Progress Should Be Checked Now

By now, you may have received some report on the progress of your child at school. You may have learned a good deal from him directly, but this hardly is enough. Not only should you try to discover how well he is getting along with other children, and conforming to the school's regulations, but also how well he is doing in each of his subjects and how his achievement at books measures up to the standards for his grade.

By Garry Meyers

IF HIS first report cards failed to give this information, it may be wise to speak to his teacher. In case he is lagging in one or more subjects, you should know it and be advised by the school about the kind of help you should give this youngster yourself at home or with the aid of a tutor.

Don't expect the teacher to give him more individual help. She may already be overburdened with too large a class and be discouraged with her inability to give each child as much individual attention as she would like.

Yet, strangely enough, this teacher may be inclined to assure you that the school will look after your child's learning progress. She may even advise you not to help him at home or to provide a tutor for him.

OFTEN IT is wise for parents to follow such advice. However, many parents have written me, saying they literally followed the school's suggestion in these directions, when the child was in the second, third or fourth grade only to be disillusioned in his later school years.

I wish the teacher would, as a rule, encourage parents and show them how to help the lagging child. She need not worry that the parents will use poor methods.

Her chief concern should be that they should be patient with the child and never grow angry with him over his lessons.

My bulletins, "Helping The Child With His Lessons," and "Home Helps" in reading, spelling, arithmetic and handwriting, may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Cleveland Power Firm Seeks Hike Of $5½ Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. wants to boost rates to its 550,000 customers by 5½ million dollars, which the company says would amount to a five per cent general increase to customers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga and Lorain Counties.

In Tuesday's opening session, Ralph Locher, Cleveland law director, and Andrew Sarisky, an assistant, protested the company's proposal to increase its claimed valuation by 60 million dollars.

This is a key figure in the rate case because under Ohio law companies are granted a fair return on their rate base or valuation. The higher the valuation the higher the amount of earnings.

Locher and Sarisky contend the 60 million dollars the company intends to add to its rate base should be examined to see whether it is accurate.

Everett H. Krueger Jr., commission chairman said it would be up to the company to prove any additions to its rate base.

The company says it needs the rate increase because the cost of doing business has gone up since it was granted a five million dollar increase four years ago.

175 Attend Presbytery Session At Hookstown

Some 175 attended the 50th anniversary services of the Beaver Presbytery Tuesday night at the Mill Creek church in Hookstown. About 150 attended the banquet.

Dr. David E. Culley, who served as professor of Hebrew at Western Theological Seminary for many years, was guest speaker. The historical address was given by Dr. Edward B. Welch of Wooster, a former president of the Presbyterian Historical Society of the Upper Ohio Valley.

Wellsville Scout Fund Drive Achieves $400

Some $400 has been reported collected in the Wellsville Boy Scout fund drive, Richard Brown, chairman, said today.

He pointed out this represents less than a third of the reports due. He said the majority of the business places have not reported.

The goal is $2,500 and the drive will end Saturday. The drive to raise funds for the Columbiana Boy Scout Council is conducted separately in Wellsville because the city does not have a united fund organization.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

School Progress Should Be Checked Now

By now, you may have received some report on the progress of your child at school. You may have learned a good deal from him directly, but this hardly is enough. Not only should you try to discover how well he is getting along with other children, and conforming to the school's regulations, but also how well he is doing in each of his subjects and how his achievement at books measures up to the standards for his grade.

IF HIS first report cards failed to give this information, it may be wise to speak to his teacher. In case he is lagging in one or more subjects, you should know it and be advised by the school about the kind of help you should give this youngster yourself at home or with the aid of a tutor.

Don't expect the teacher to give him more individual help. She may already be overburdened with too large a class and be discouraged with her inability to give each child as much individual attention as she would like.

Yet, strangely enough, this teacher may be inclined to assure you that the school will look after your child's learning progress. She may even advise you not to help him at home or to provide a tutor for him.

OFTEN IT is wise for parents to follow such advice. However, many parents have written me, saying they literally followed the school's suggestion in these directions, when the child was in the second, third or fourth grade only to be disillusioned in his later school years.

I wish the feacher would, as a rule, encourage parents and show them how to help the lagging child. She need not worry that the parents will use poor methods.

Her chief concern should be that they should be patient with the child and never grow angry with him over his lessons.

My bulletins, "Helping The Child With His Lessons," and "Home Helps" in reading, spelling, arithmetic and handwriting, may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Cleveland Power Firm Seeks Hike Of $5½ Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. wants to boost rates to its 550,000 customers by 5½ million dollars, which the company says would amount to a five per cent general increase to customers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga and Lorain Counties.

In Tuesday's opening session, Ralph Locher, Cleveland law director, and Andrew Sarisky, an assistant, protested the company's proposal to increase its claimed valuation by 60 million dollars.

This is a key figure in the rate case because under Ohio law companies are granted a fair return on their rate base or valuation. The higher the valuation the higher the amount of earnings.

Locher and Sarisky contend the 60 million dollars the company intends to add to its rate base should be examined to see whether it is accurate.

Everett H. Krueger Jr., commission chairman said it would be up to the company to prove any additions to its rate base.

The company says it needs the rate increase because the cost of doing business has gone up since it was granted a five million dollar increase four years ago.

PTA Federation To Meet Monday

A change in the date and place of meetings of the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations for the current term was voted by the executive committee recently.

The initial meeting will be held Monday night at 7:30 in the library of Westgate school. Previous meetings were in the Memorial Auditorium.

The new slate of officers wil preside. They include Mrs. Lester Hall, president; Judson English, vice president; Mrs. Don Alexander, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, treasurer, and Austen Moore, executive member.

The program will include a panel discussion on suggestions and recommendations for future meetings and a brief talk by Judge Louis Tobin in behalf of the Child Counseling Center. The newly appointed program committee, Mrs. Ray Diddle, Mrs. Nelson Wright and Donald Hancock, will be in charge.

All PTA members are invited and delegates will be given their committee assignments.

175 Attend Presbytery Session At Hookstown

Some 175 attended the 50th anniversary services of the Beaver Presbytery Tuesday night at the Mill Creek church in Hookstown. About 150 attended the banquet.

Wellsville Scout Fund Drive Achieves $400

Stakes High In New York State

Harriman Vs. Rockefeller Political Fight Torrid One

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's fabulously wealthy rivals for governor must have learned somewhere in their Social Register backgrounds the knack of fighting.

The issues are a bit murky at times, but Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman and his Republican challenger, Nelson A. Rockefeller, are flailing away with gusto.

The two millionaire Ivy Leaguers (Harriman, Yale); Rockefeller, Dartmouth) are firing charges over such matters as bossism, crime and unemployment without letting their personal friendship stand in their way.

The stakes are high, for the New York governorship often has led to a try for the presidency.

Harriman twice has sought the Democratic presidential nomination and reputedly still has his eye on it in 1960.

A triumph for Rockefeller would cast him into the 1960 GOP presidential picture, now dominated by Vice President Nixon.

Harriman, 66, seeking re-election Nov. 4, is a liberal of the New Deal-Fair Deal tradition. Rockefeller, 50, is regarded as a liberal to moderate of the Eisenhower wing of the Republicans.

To the average voter, their views do not seem far apart. For instance, union-opposed right-to-work laws, a hot issue in the California campaign, scarcely have been mentioned here. Both candidates are against such legislation.

Also, both are strong civil rights advocates.

Rockefeller charged the Democrats with bossism and hidden government. He accused Harriman of being a puppet of Carmine G. DeSapio, chief of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

Rockefeller is just "flapping his wings" in an effort to "cover up for the Eisenhower administration and the Eisenhower recession," Harriman retorted.

DeSapio said he had reliable information that Rockefeller was nominated by Wall Street bankers.

"The decision as to who should run for governor was not made at the Republican convention but in the board of directors room of the Chase National Bank," De Sapio said.

"Bunk," retorted Rockefeller. "Just straight bunk."

The fantastic underworld convention of more than 60 mobsters in the upstate village of Apalachin last November is a favorite Republican campaign issue.

Nobody charges that the Democrats had any connection whatever with the convention, but the fact the hoodlums were bold enough to meet in a Democratic-administered state was all the GOP needed to talk it up.

"As governor, I would not allow gangsters to look upon our state as an ideal place in which to meet and lay their plans," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller said industry was moving from New York to other states because of "complacency and drift" by the Harriman administration.

Said Harriman: "My opponent is a well-meaning fellow, but he's in bad hands. He's in the hands of Madison Avenue pitchmen, tricky statisticians and reactionary politicians."

4th Annual Series Of Classes Slated

For the fourth successive year, the Board of Education will sponsor an Adult Night School with the first classes scheduled to begin Oct. 27—if sufficient people enroll.

The board gave formal approval to the continuance of the program at its meeting Monday night.

In order to conduct any single class, it will be necessary to have 10 enroll, Supt. Ralph W. Betts said. The tuition fee will be $6 and no refund can be made after the second meeting of the class. The fee will be paid the first night.

The classes will be held each Monday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., except when schools are closed for the holidays, for 10 weeks.

Betts said an attempt will be made to secure an instructor for any course in which 10 or more are registered. Because no credit is given, the teacher does not have to have a teaching certificate, he explained.

Among the courses offered in the past were Basic Principles of Speech, American History, General Mathematics, Algebra, Blueprint Reading, American Government, Bookkeeping, Typing, Woodshop, Music Reading, Music Theory and Art.

Registration can be made by contacting the superintendent's office by Oct. 21.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Lutheran Church in America (ULCA) has attained a record baptized membership of 2,395,611, it was reported today.

Dr. F. Eppling Reinartz, church secretary, said the church registered a net gain of 60,259 baptized members during 1957.

Dr. Reinartz told delegates to the church's 21st biennial convention here that the number of congregations now total 4,503 with 4,613 pastors.

Valuation of church property has reached $549,980,792. Current expenditures total $80,826,750.

Offerings for the world - wide ministry of the church last year passed the 100-million-dollar mark for the first time in the denomination's 40-year history, Dr. Reinartz said. Total expenditures reached $100,742,983.

5 Mine Strikers Fined $20 Each, 6 Given Terms

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — On charges of assault and unlawful discharge of firearms, five United Mine Workers strikers were fined $20 each by Common Pleas Judge Harold J. Richmond Tuesday, and four of them must serve a sentence.

A jury convicted the five last week of shooting with intent to wound at several boys who drove past their picket line on June 25 at the Johnson Plastics Co. in Newbury.

William Puglesi, 32, of Mantua, drew the stiffest sentence—one to 20 years in Ohio Penitentiary.

Gilbert Gribble, 20, of Chesterland, got off the easiest—with a suspended sentence and two years probation.

David Barlow, 28, of Mantua, was sentenced to one to 20 years in Mansfield Reformatory, and Guy O. Bennett, 30, of Kiwanis Lake and Nolan P. Weimer, 22, of Mantua, were given suspended penitentiary sentences, ordered to serve three months in Geauga County Jail, and put on probation for two years.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent baby's shoe laces from coming untied so often?

A. Lace the last eyelet by inserting the lace from the outside of the shoe, then tie as usual in two knots. Tuck in the knot and it will not be seen again until the shoes are removed.

Q. How can I induce the canary to take a bath, when he ssems unwilling to do so?

A. Try sprinkling a little clean sand in the bottom of the bird tub. The slippery bottom of the dish is often the reason for the bird's hesitancy.

Q. How can I prevent leather furniture from cracking and becoming dry?

A. Rub it occasionally with linseed oil. This will keep the leather soft.

Bugs Are Wanted

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Park Supt. Jim Clary said he gets odd requests frequently, but a recent one stumped him.

Haney, Stengel Thinking Of Possible 7th Game In Series

Spahn And Maybe Ford To Pitch Today's Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Although the World Series could end today, both managers — Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees —were thinking of Thursday and a possible seventh and deciding game.

After giving two-time winner Warren Spahn the job of clinching the series in the sixth game today, Haney told reporters: "I'd like to clear it out as quickly as possible, but if we don't do it today, then we got another chance tomorrow."

Haney, naturally, expressed faith in Spahn's ability to register his third straight victory over the Yankees and declined to speculate on his seventh game pitcher, if necessary. There was no doubt, however, that Lew Burdette, winner of the second game and loser of the fifth, would be his man.

Stengel was undecided but strongly indicated that he probably would settle upon Whitey Ford today, with Bob Turley his seventh game choice, should the Yankees win.

Ford has started twice and the Yankees have lost both games. The 29-year-old southpaw was charged with one of the defeats and relief ace Ryne Duren the other.

"Ford tells me his arm is all right, and he's my best," said Stengel. "Spahn showed us he's a great pitcher. You've just got to go with your best against a guy like that."

Turley also would be going with two days rest should he pitch the seventh game, if one is necessary. He turned in the best performance of his career Monday, shutting out the Braves 7-0 with a five-hitter to trim the Braves' lead in games to 3-2.

Spahn will have had a bit more than two days rest when he faces the Yankees today. The 37-year-old left-hander said his arm felt fine.

The two lineups depended upon the pitchers. Haney said he would use his right-handed platoon, with Andy Pafko in center field and Joe Adcock at first base, if Ford were to pitch. With a right-hander going for the Yankees, Billy Bruton would be in center and Frank Torre at first.

The Yankee lineup was all set except for third base. Stengel said he will stick with Elston Howard in left field and Yogi Berra behind the plate.

"If Ford pitches for me," he said, "I may play the kid (Bobby Richardson) at third base. Those right-handers of theirs hit it down that way with a left-hander on the mound. And the kid's the best glove man I've got. If a right-hander pitches for me, it might be (Jerry) Lumpe. I seem to remember that he got a hit as a pinch hitter against Spahn in the last series. Now, if I want the long ball, I might play (Andy) Carey."

Cloudy, Mild Forecast For 6th Series Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) —An optimistic weatherman eliminated all mention of precipitation from the weather forecast and predicted partly cluody skies and mild temperatures for today's sixth game of the World Series.

Temperatures were expected to be in the 50s early in the day, climbing to about 72 by the time the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves take the field in Milwaukee County Stadium at 3 p.m. (DST).

Layne Hopes He Gives Steelers Winning Complex

The 31-year-old veteran who is starting his 11th pro campaign says he's happy to be with the Steelers, adding:

"I hope I can give the Steelers a winning complex by being a team leader and giving the fellows confidence by playing good and alert football."

Layne can speak with authority. The former Texas University star played a key role in bringing the Detroit Lions championship football teams.

Layne was traded Monday by Detroit to the Steelers for quarterback Earl Morrall and two future draft choices amied reports he had lost his old time zing.

"I don't feel like that," Layne said when told about the reports. "If I did, I'd go back home. I feel real good."

Coach Buddy Parker of the Steelers said he'll start Layne Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles at Pitt Stadium. The Steelers have lost their first two games.

If Yanks Come Back To Win Series They'll Match Feat Of 1925 Pirates

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If the New York Yankees fight back to make this a seven-game World Series and then win it, they will match the comeback of the 1925 Pittsburgh Pirates.

The '25 Pirates, managed by Bill McKechnie, were the only team to overcome a 3-1 deficit to beat the Washington Senators in a best of seven series. In the very first series in 1903 when it was a best of nine competition, the Boston Red Sox, trailing 3-1, bounced back to win the next four and defeat the Pirates. Deacon Phillippe pitched five complete games for Pittsburgh in that series.

Walter Johnson was the victim of the Pirates' comeback on a rain-soaked, muddy field at Pittsburgh 33 years ago. Johnson had won the opener 4-1 from Lee Meadows and shut out Pittsburgh 4-0 in the fourth game. Alex Ferguson also had won a game, the third, 4-3 after Vic Aldridge had given the Pirates their lone victory at the expense of Stan Coveleskie in the second, 3-2.

Aldridge came back in the fifth game to beat Coveleskie for the second time 6-3 and Ray Kremer took the measure of Ferguson to square the series after six games.

With Johnson going for Washington, Manager Bucky Harris figured he had things under control after his club scored four in the first inning in the rain, knocking out Aldridge.

Pittsburgh came up with three in the third but Washington got two in the fourth. After six innings Johnson, although being hit hard, had a 6-4 edge.

The Pirates tied the score in the seventh only to have Washington come back with another in the top of the eighth on Roger Peckingpaugh's home run. That was the setting when Johnson went out for the eighth.

Pittsburgh started to rally. Soon the bases were full. In the gloom of a rainy late October afternoon, Kiki Cuyler came through with a double for the tying and winning runs.

Braves Staged 'Family Day' During Workout On Tuesday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tuesday was family day during the Milwaukee Braves' workout. Catcher Del Crandall had his two sons in tow at County Stadium. Eddie Mathews brought along Eddie Jr., decked out in a baseball uniform, an outsized cap and cowboy boots.

Mickey Mantle had his own ideas about who Yankee Manager Casey Stengel should name to pitch the sixth World Series game. "If I was manager," said Mick, "I know who I'd pick — me."

Mantle, who has a knuckler some folks say is the best in the American League, was told his pitch only works in the East. It's no good in the West. "No, sir," said Mick. "With the wind blowing out toward center, I'd be throwing into it, and they'd never hit it."

A parking problem has popped up. During the first two games of the series last week, "emergency areas" connected with the construction of an expressway that will pass near the Braves stadium was used. But heavy rain washed out those extra spaces, cutting available parking spaces from 12,000 to 10,000.

Braves' pitcher Warren Spahn said he couldn't remember the last time he pitched with only two days' rest (it was May, 1956, and he lost), then recalled the "Spahn, Sain and pray for rain" line of the 1948 race. That's when Spahn won 15, Johnny Sain 24 as the then Boston Braves won the pennant, and it seemed as though those two pitched every victory toward the end.

Spahn mentioned that Sain's uniform number with the Braves was 33. That's the number now worn by Lew Burdette — the pitcher who came to the Braves in 1951 in a trade that sent Sain to the Yankees.

Yama Bahama KO's Jesse Bogart In 10th

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Yama Bahama, bleeding from a cut over his right eye from the fourth round on, still piled up an impressive lead and knocked out Jesse Bogart in the final round of a 10-round bout Tuesday night.

Braves Lefty Won't Shake Off Catcher

MILWAUKEE (AP) — When 37-year-old Warren Spahn goes against the Yankees in the sixth game of the World Series today you can be certain of one thing:

He won't shake off his catcher.

Del Crandall, a big, 28-year-old blond who spent two years watching ball games from the bullpen, will be in his accustomed place behind the plate calling the pitches.

"And," said Spahn, "he won't get any arguments from me. He calls the game 100 per cent. He knows more about me as a pitcher than I do.

"I haven't questioned Del's judgment in years. He watches the hitters more closely than I do. He can see their every move, whether they are moving up, inching back and all that sort of thing. Many times it will determine how we pitch to them."

Spahn, who already has licked the Yanks twice, admitted that sometimes it looks as though he's shaking Crandall off, but that it's really to throw the hitters off.

Crandall credits Spahn with a fat chunk of his success.

"Remember," said Del, "when I came up in 1949, I did very little catching. The club had Walker Cooper then and I spent most of my time watching the games.

"But Spahnie kept asking for me every time he pitched. I don't pitch. You can imagine what that did for my confidence."

Crandall did a hitch in the service, then came back to the Braves.

"And there was Spahnie waiting for me," he said. "He still liked to pitch to me and pretty soon I was the regular catcher."

At the moment, Crandall is fourth best hitter on both teams who have played in all five games with a .294 mark.

Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons, dean of American thoroughbred conditioners, has missed in three attempts to win The Garden State, the world's richest race. He has tried with Full Flight, Bold Ruler and Misty Flight.

Casey Pleads For Rain To Delay World Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It sounded a little like the crumbling of a dynasty — Emperor Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees pleading for rain to delay the World Series.

But there was the cagey old phrase-twister saying: "I hope it rains — I hope it rains for four days."

He was playing cat-and-mouse with reporters over his probable starting pitcher against the Milwaukee Braves' slick Warren Spahn in today's sixth series game.

"You fellows should know I'm trying out Spahn in this workout," said Stengel. "Want to see if he can go tomorrow."

Spahn? Reporters scratched their heads and looked at each other.

"Spahn, did I say Spahn," Stengel recouped. "I mean Shantz. Hell, I guess I really got that Spahn on my brain.

"Now you take that Spahn. I'm not surprised they're going with him. He's their best pitcher and Haney's got two games to gamble with. Me, I got one, and I gotta guess right.

"Spahn beats us two games and the longer each game goes, the better he gets. He starts out with a nice small white ball and pretty soon, along about the seventh, eighth and ninth innings, it begins to look like a pill which gets smaller and smaller to our fellows.

"So we're one run down to them (20-19), but we're stinking in every department but pitching. Look it up. We strike out more of them (41-31), but we look awful running the bases and fielding.

"Ford thinks he can beat them. Every one of those guys of mine want to pitch this one. Ford thinks he is the pitcher for this sixth one and Turley pitches the seventh.

"Turley might be a better pitcher after two days rest, but I don't know how he could be better than Monday. He's a Spahn-type pitcher, never a sore arm. He's got an arm like a rubber hose."

Cardinals Make 3-2 Trade With Giants

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals made a 3-for-2 trade with the San Francisco Giants Tuesday, their second multi-player swap since Solly Hemus became manager last week.

Pitcher Billy Muffett, Catcher Hobie Landrith and utility infielder Benny Valenzuela were sent to the Giants for pitchers Ernie Broglio and Marv Grissom.

The Cards gave up three players who failed to deliver in 1958 for a promising rookie, Broglio, and a 40-year-old veteran of nine years in the major leagues.

Broglio, 23, won 17 games and lost only four this year in Triple-A competition. The 6-foot-2 right-hander will accompany the Cardinals on their forthcoming exhibition tour of the Orient.

Toledo Hockey Team Sells Two Of Players

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Toledo Mercurys of the International Hockey League today announced the sale of Norm (Skip) MacKay and Paul Strasser to Philadelphia of the Eastern Hockey League.

Andy Mulligan, Toledo general manager, said the sale was a straight cash deal with no other players involved.

Both MacKay and Strasser are right wings. Strasser was third high scorer for the Mercurys last season with 63 points on 28 goals and 35 assists. MacKay was sixth with 49 points on 28 goals and 21 assists.

Haney, Stengel Thinking Of Possible 7th Game In Series

Spahn And Maybe Ford To Pitch Today's Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Although the World Series could end today, both managers — Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees —were thinking of Thursday and a possible seventh and deciding game.

After giving two-time winner Warren Spahn the job of clinching the series in the sixth game today, Haney told reporters: "I'd like to clear it out as quickly as possible, but if we don't do it today, then we got another chance tomorrow."

Haney, naturally, expressed faith in Spahn's ability to register his third straight victory over the Yankees and declined to speculate on his seventh game pitcher, if necessary. There was no doubt, however, that Lew Burdette, winner of the second game and loser of the fifth, would be his man.

Stengel was undecided but strongly indicated that he probably would settle upon Whitey Ford today, with Bob Turley his seventh game choice, should the Yankees win.

Ford has started twice and the Yankees have lost both games. The 29-year-old southpaw was charged with one of the defeats and relief ace Ryne Duren the other.

"Ford tells me his arm is all right, and he's my best," said Stengel. "Spahn showed us he's a great pitcher. You've just got to go with your best against a guy like that."

Turley also would be going with two days rest should he pitch the seventh game, if one is necessary. He turned in the best performance of his career Monday, shutting out the Braves 7-0 with a five-hitter to trim the Braves' lead in games to 3-2.

Spahn will have had a bit more than two days rest when he faces the Yankees today. The 37-year-old left-hander said his arm felt fine.

The two lineups depended upon the pitchers. Haney said he would use his right-handed platoon, with Andy Pafko in center field and Joe Adcock at first base, if Ford were to pitch. With a right-hander going for the Yankees, Billy Bruton would be in center and Frank Torre at first.

The Yankee lineup was all set except for third base. Stengel said he will stick with Elston Howard in left field and Yogi Berra behind the plate.

"If Ford pitches for me," he said, "I may play the kid (Bobby Richardson) at third base. Those right-handers of theirs hit it down that way with a left-hander on the mound. And the kid's the best glove man I've got. If a right-hander pitches for me, it might be (Jerry) Lumpe. I seem to remember that he got a hit as a pinch hitter against Sphan in the last series. Now, if I want the long ball, I might play (Andy) Carey."

Cloudy, Mild Forecast For 6th Series Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) —An optimistic weatherman eliminated all mention of precipitation from the weather forecast and predicted partly cluody skies and mild temperatures for today's sixth game of the World Series.

Temperatures were expected to be in the 50s early in the day, climbing to about 72 by the time the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves take the field in Milwaukee County Stadium at 3 p.m. (DST).

Layne Hopes He Gives Steelers Winning Complex

The 31-year-old veteran who is starting his 11th pro campaign says he's happy to be with the Steelers, adding:

"I hope I can give the Steelers a winning complex by being a team leader and giving the fellows confidence by playing good and alert football."

Layne can speak with authority. The former Texas University star played a key role in bringing the Detroit Lions championship football teams.

Layne was traded Monday by Detroit to the Steelers for quarterback Earl Morrall and two future draft choices amied reports he had lost his old time zing.

"I don't feel like that," Layne said when told about the reports. "If I did, I'd go back home. I feel real good."

Coach Buddy Parker of the Steelers said he'll start Layne Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles at Pitt Stadium. The Steelers have lost their first two games.

If Yanks Come Back To Win Series They'll Match Feat Of 1925 Pirates

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If the New York Yankees fight back to make this a seven-game World Series and then win it, they will match the comeback of the 1925 Pittsburgh Pirates.

The '25 Pirates, managed by Bill McKechnie, were the only team to overcome a 3-1 deficit to beat the Washington Senators in a best of seven series. In the very first series in 1903 when it was a best of nine competition, the Boston Red Sox, trailing 3-1, bounced back to win the next four and defeat the Pirates. Deacon Phillippe pitched five complete games for Pittsburgh in that series.

Walter Johnson was the victim of the Pirates' comeback on a rain-soaked, muddy field at Pittsburgh 33 years ago. Johnson had won the opener 4-1 from Lee Meadows and shut out Pittsburgh 4-0 in the fourth game. Alex Ferguson also had won a game, the third, 4-3 after Vic Aldridge had given the Pirates their lone victory at the expense of Stan Coveleskie in the second, 3-2.

Aldridge came back in the fifth game to beat Coveleskie for the second time 6-3 and Ray Kremer took the measure of Ferguson to square the series after six games.

With Johnson going for Washington, Manager Bucky Harris figured he had things under control after his club scored four in the first inning in the rain, knocking out Aldridge.

Pittsburgh came up with three in the third but Washington got two in the fourth. After six innings Johnson, although being hit hard, had a 6-4 edge.

The Pirates tied the score in the seventh only to have Washington come back with another in the top of the eighth on Roger Peckingpaugh's home run. That was the setting when Johnson went out for the eighth.

Pittsburgh started to rally. Soon the bases were full. In the gloom of a rainy late October afternoon, Kiki Cuyler came through with a double for the tying and winning runs.

Braves Staged 'Family Day' During Workout On Tuesday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tuesday was family day during the Milwaukee Braves' workout. Catcher Del Crandall had his two sons in tow at County Stadium. Eddie Mathews brought along Eddie Jr., decked out in a baseball uniform, an outsized cap and cowboy boots.

Mickey Mantle had his own ideas about who Yankee Manager Casey Stengel should name to pitch the sixth World Series game. "If I was manager," said Mick, "I know who I'd pick — me."

Mantle, who has a knuckler some folks say is the best in the American League, was told his pitch only works in the East. It's no good in the West. "No, sir," said Mick. "With the wind blowing out toward center, I'd be throwing into it, and they'd never hit it."

A parking problem has popped up. During the first two games of the series last week, "emergency areas" connected with the construction of an expressway that will pass near the Braves stadium was used. But heavy rain washed out those extra spaces, cutting available parking spaces from 12,000 to 10,000.

Braves' pitcher Warren Spahn said he couldn't remember the last time he pitched with only two days' rest (it was May, 1956, and he lost), then recalled the "Spahn, Sain and pray for rain" line of the 1948 race. That's when Spahn won 15, Johnny Sain 24 as the then Boston Braves won the pennant, and it seemed as though those two pitched every victory toward the end.

Half Of District Elevens May Finish Season Below .500

13 Games Set For Gridders This Weekend

With the 1958 football season reaching its halfway mark this week, it appears as if not even half of the district's 17 high school teams pack the guns to finish on the winning side of the ledger.

Only a single team is still undefeated in the district —East Palestine —while five other clubs have lost only one of four games, two others are even and the remainder are way below par at the present ranging from one win in four games to a string of four defeats.

With only seven and possibly eight district squads figured to finish above the .500 average, eight games Friday and five more Saturday may dwindle the select list even further.

East Palestine heads the list of top teams with four sraight victories and is idle with an open date this weekend. Coach Bob Mallory's Bulldogs passed probably their sternest test of the season in slipping by Lisbon's unpredictable Blue Devils last week, 16-14, but may face a day of decision later this month against powerful Poland.

Salineville appears headed for its best season in years in the eleven-man ranks and will be rated a heavy favorite when it takes its 3-1 record to Fairfield - Waterford (0-4) Saturday afternoon. The Indians squeezed by Irondale last week, 6-0, but lost the services of three regulars in the bruising battle.

Star quarterback Larry Kessler, Salineville's passing whiz, will probably miss the next two games with a back injury while halfback Jerry Giannone came up with an injury and will miss this week's game along with center Chuck Tepsic.

Coach Dick Jones has moved junior Dave Gerrin to quarterback in Kessler's place and installed Dick Beadnell, a regular end, at the halfback post in place of the injured Giannone. The remainder of the squad appears intact. Halfback Rich Dunlap, bothered with a recent leg injury, will be ready to go this weekend and will be out to catch the district scoring leaders against Fairfield - Waterford, a team which has yielded 184 points to opponents while scoring only 22. Dunlap has racked up six touchdowns this year.

New Cumberland, (3-1-1), loser only to strong Weirton Madonna, finds itself an underdog this week against undefeated Brilliant in Jefferson County. Brilliant has rolled over four straight foes and looms as the definite A power in Jefferson County. Its last win was over husky Springfield Township, a team that was favored to win by at least two touchdowns.

However, New Cumberland has Phil Cullen, who is tied for the district high scorer with 48 points on eight touchdowns, and is considered a threat to halt the high-scoring Devils coached by Charlie Becca.

Midland, with a 2-1-1 record, travels to Monaca Friday night for a WPIAL test after losing to undefeated Braddock last week, 9-7.

Two of the district's oldest rivals —Chester and Newell—get together for a night game Friday at the Newell field and Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers will be a definite favorite to repeat over the Newell eleven after administering a 44-6 lacing last year.

Chester, now 2-1-2 after being downed by Warwood last week, 25-7, for its initial defeat of the season has tied with New Cumberland, 14-14, and Wellsville, 6-6. Newell (1-3) whipped Wayne from Jefferson County last week, 12-0, for its first win. Coach Pete Horoszko's Big Green has lost to Weirton Madonna, New Cumberland, and Hopedale while scoring only 19 points.

Lisbon (2-2) faces a tough foe for the second straight week in Minerva and the game is rated a toss-up. Coach Bud Bucher's Blue Devils, lost to East Palestine last week, 16-14. East Palestine triumped over Sebring by an identical score.

At Salem, the hefty Quakers entertain Wooster and Coach Earl Bruce's club (2-2), will attempt to bounce back from last week's 26-16 loss to powerful Brookfield.

East Liverpool's Potters meet Ohio's top eleven Friday night when they travel to Warren for a game with coach Gene Slaughter's Black Panthers. Coach Lou Venditti's squad, 1-2-1, will be out to halt Warren's string of three victories and a tie, but will catch the Panthers fresh from a 30-12 win over Mansfield. Warren has yielded only 34 points in four games.

Coach Ken Wood's Wellsville Tigers will be shooting for their second victory of the year against Cadiz (3-1), which whipped Barnesville last week, 14-6. The Tigers will have to stop the vaunted air game of the Cards to come up with a victory.

In other games, Irondale will take its 1-2 record to Wayne, Leetonia (1-2-1) will visit Columbiana with an identical record, Bentleyville visits South Side (1-3), and Dennison St. Mary's invades Beaver Local (1-3).

The hunting outlook for pheasants and rabbits is very good this year.

I cannot see any great increase in the game population, but considering the wet spring and summer we experienced, wildlife seems to have held its own and reproduced very nicely.

There were 450 pheasants released in this county with Zepernick and the Highlandtown areas receiving a generous helping.

Other birds were released in Butler and Hanover Townships.

There is one bad feature about releasing pen-reared birds. They become easy targets for hawks and owls since they have received protection in the rearing pens. Many survive in spite of everything and revert to the wilds in a normal fashion.

I do not condemn hawks and owls as such but when a pen-reared pheasant insists on feeding territory he becomes easy prey for all birds of prey as well as predatory animals. And don't discount the dogs and cats on the loose. They get in on the kill.

The 1959 Conservation Reserve Program, better known as the Soil Bank, provides financial incentives to retire cropland to permanent cover for three, five or 10 years. Wildlife conservation is the purpose of the program..

Here are some of the facts the farmer needs:

First, understand the program. The "G" practices are the wildlife food and cover plantings and fish or waterfowl ponds. Payments are made on a basis of 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the practice. The way the law stands, payment for the wildlife practices is higher than for equivalent soil conserving practices.

Wildlife food and cover areas are limited to 5-acre patches except that sweetclover-grass has no acreage ceiling.

Legumes are part of all wildlife meadow plantings. Multiflora rose hedge is available as a wildlife practice.

Croplands can be flooded to make duck and muskrat marshes.

Farmers needing help to plan a conservation reserve on their lands should contact the nearest game protector or game management supervisor or the Soil Bank office over the post office at Lisbon before the deadline for 1959.

Arizona's Hibbert Grabs 16 Passes To Capture Lead

By The Associated Press

Anyone who read the University of Arizona's football brochure before the start of the 1958 college football season and then looked at the offensive statistics in its first three games must have done a double take.

The big mystery is Dave Hibbert, a rangy end who has caught 16 passes in three games, to take the leadership in that department according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau in New York. Hibbert is not listed in the brochure.

Hibbert had a good day last Saturday against Tulsa with five receptions to jump from fourth place. He has not scored but has netted his team 160 yards.

Second is Ulmo Randle of Virginia, with 14 receptions in three games for 244 yards and two touchdowns while Cal Bird of Kentucky has snagged 13 in three games, scoring twice and gaining 192 yards.

Charley Milstead of Texas A&M leads the nation's punters with a 49.9 yards average on eight punts. Georgia's Bob Walden has kicked 12 times for a 47.7 average, while Don Coker of North Carolina has a 46.7 average on seven punts.

Team's Progress Discussed

Parents Night Draws 140

Nearly 140 parents, varsity football players, coaches and members of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club attended the club's annual "Parents Night" program Tuesday in the Elks Lodge.

Head football coach Lou Venditti was principal speaker and introduced members of the high school and junior high coaching staffs and discussed progress of this year's team, while outlining plans for the Potters big game Friday with Warren — rated the top team in Ohio.

Venditti told the group that he feels that "Warren is fully the best team in the state" and is not to be "underestimated," but looked for the Potters to turn in a bang-up game if further injuries to key players do not occur.

The Potter coach added that first stringers Mike Kapp, Dave Zelch and Bill O'Neil, who sat out last week's game with injuries, "may or may not be ready for Warren; but in all probability, O'Neil, a husky fullback, may have recovered enough from a leg injury to see duty this week."

Kapp appears unlikely to be ready for Friday's game after missing nearly two weeks of practice with a leg injury while Zelch may be used for spot action only due to a shoulder injury.

With a question mark looming over the three key men in the Potter lineup, Venditti ventured that "we may be outmanned but not outfought," and pointed out that "we have everything to gain with a victory and nothing to lose."

Warren, with a 3-0-1 record to match the Potters 1-2-1 mark, is fresh from a thumping victory over Mansfield and with just the right proportion of incentive on the Potter squad, could find itself in for a rough night—barring further injuries.

Although disappointed with last week's one-point defeat by Youngstown Rayen, Lou said that he felt the Potters "played their best game of the season," and pointed out that a few mistakes cost East Liverpool its second victory of the year.

Warren's personnel was briefly discussed and Paul Warfield, a 160-pound junior halfback with speed to burn, was listed as the man to stop along with fullback Bob Sims, a 175-pound senior.

Lou also paid tribute to the team's high spirits and told the group that the morale on the Potter squad is "the highest in 10 years —under circumstances."

Coaches introduced were Bob Hedmond, Nunzio Polichene and Rey Peduzzi from the high school, Bill Erlitz and Bill Blair of Westgate Junior High School and Dom Cascio of East Junior High. Dale Wilson and Harry Wolfe, others junior high coaches, were unable to attend. Venditti also introduced Frank Dawson, former Baldwin Wallace student, who has been working with the team as a trainer, and Merrill Hall, director of athletics.

Members of the team were introduced by Nick Musuraca, Pat Cooper, Bob Mackall, and Craig Burbick, who mimicked actions of the coaches during season games and practice sessions. Managers were introduced by Art Thomas Jr.

Hap Tullis, president of the Nonpareil Club. presided for a brief business session. Dick Waggle, co-chairman of the membership committee, reported 275 members were signed in the club's annual campaign and requested Nonpareil members with tickets still out to return them to the committee.

Little Potters Trip Weirton

East Liverpool's reserves will be gunning for their second straight victory of the season when they host Steubenville Central Catholic's jayvees Monday at 4 p. m. at Patterson Field after drubbing Weirton this week, 52-18.

Coach Bob Hedmond's Little Potters — mostly sophomores and freshmen — now have a 1-1-1 record including Monday's victory over Weir High's reserves. The Potter eleven lost to Martins Ferry, 8-0, and has battled Beaver to a scoreless tie.

Sophomore halfback Joe Thompson led the touchdown parade in this week's game against Weirton by scoring two touchdowns on short runs and two extra points. He saw varsity action against Youngstown Rayen and has caught the eyes of the Potter coaching staff with his running ability.

Other Potters who got in the act were Tim Archer, sophomore end, who had a touchdown and two extra points; Jim Sparks and Cookie Goodballet, with one touchdown and an extra point each, and Mike Goen and John Goodballet, who also registered touchdowns. Geon's score was by a pass while John Goodballet's was on a one - yard buck.

Hedmond singled out Geon, an end, Bob Exton, a tackle, and Larry Crook, a guard, for playing an outstanding line game, while Thompson, the Goodballet boys, and quarterback Craig O'Neil, turned in shining offensive play. Cookie Goodballet also drew praise for his punting and kickoff ability.

Ray Offers Test For Eddie Cotton In Louisville Bout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —Sonny Ray of Chicago offers Eddie Cotton of Seattle his first test of the year tonight in a scheduled 10-round light-heavyweight fight at Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Both were expected to weigh about 171 pounds for the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) bout. Scoring will be on the 5-point system.

Ray, now 23, has an 18-5-5 record, including three victories — two by knockouts—in four matches with light - heavyweight contender Jesse Boqdry.

Cotton has a 35-7-1 record in a career spanning almost 11 years. He quit the ring in 1956 because of his slow progress and, last year, one of his few fights was a losing decision to Archie Moore.

13 Games Set For Gridders This Weekend

With the 1958 football season reaching its halfway mark this week, it appears as if not even half of the district's 17 high school teams pack the guns to finish on the winning side of the ledger.

Only a single team is still undefeated in the district —East Palestine —while five other clubs have lost only one of four games, two others are even and the remainder are way below par at the present ranging from one win in four games to a string of four defeats.

With only seven and possibly eight district squads figured to finish above the .500 average, eight games Friday and five more Saturday may dwindle the select list even further.

East Palestine heads the list of top teams with four sraight victories and is idle with an open date this weekend. Coach Bob Mallory's Bulldogs passed probably their sternest test of the season in slipping by Lisbon's unpredictable Blue Devils last week, 16-14, but may face a day of decision later this month against powerful Poland.

Salineville appears headed for its best season in years in the eleven-man ranks and will be rated a heavy favorite when it takes its 3-1 record to Fairfield - Waterford (0-4) Saturday afternoon. The Indians squeezed by Irondale last week, 6-0, but lost the services of three regulars in the bruising battle.

Star quarterback Larry Kessler, Salineville's passing whiz, will probably miss the next two games with a back injury while halfback Jerry Giannone came up with an injury and will miss this week's game along with center Chuck Tepsic.

Coach Dick Jones has moved junior Dave Gerrin to quarterback in Kessler's place and installed Dick Beadnell, a regular end, at the halfback post in place of the injured Giannone. The remainder of the squad appears intact. Halfback Rich Dunlap, bothered with a recent leg injury, will be ready to go this weekend and will be out to catch the district scoring leaders against Fairfield - Waterford, a team which has yielded 184 points to opponents while scoring only 22. Dunlap has racked up six touchdowns this year.

New Cumberland, (3-1-1), loser only to strong Weirton Madonna, finds itself an underdog this week against undefeated Brilliant in Jefferson County. Brilliant has rolled over four straight foes and looms as the definite A power in Jefferson County. Its last win was over husky Springfield Township, a team that was favored to win by at least two touchdowns.

However, New Cumberland has Phil Cullen, who is tied for the district high scorer with 48 points on eight touchdowns, and is considered a threat to halt the high-scoring Devils coached by Charlie Becca.

Midland, with a 2-1-1 record, travels to Monaca Friday night for a WPIAL test after losing to undefeated Braddock last week, 9-7.

Two of the district's oldest rivals —Chester and Newell—get together for a night game Friday at the Newell field and Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers will be a definite favorite to repeat over the Newell eleven after administering a 44-6 lacing last year.

Chester, now 2-1-2 after being downed by Warwood last week, 25-7, for its initial defeat of the season has tied with New Cumberland, 14-14, and Wellsville, 6-6. Newell (1-3) whipped Wayne from Jefferson County last week, 12-0, for its first win. Coach Pete Horoszko's Big Green has lost to Weirton Madonna, New Cumberland, and Hopedale while scoring only 19 points.

Lisbon (2-2) faces a tough foe for the second straight week in Minerva and the game is rated a toss-up. Coach Bud Bucher's Blue Devils, lost to East Palestine last week, 16-14. East Palestine triumped over Sebring by an identical score.

At Salem, the hefty Quakers entertain Wooster and Coach Earl Bruce's club (2-2), will attempt to bounce back from last week's 26-16 loss to powerful Brookfield.

East Liverpool's Potters meet Ohio's top eleven Friday night when they travel to Warren for a game with coach Gene Slaughter's Black Panthers. Coach Lou Venditti's squad, 1-2-1, will be out to halt Warren's string of three victories and a tie, but will catch the Panthers fresh from a 30-12 win over Mansfield. Warren has yielded only 34 points in four games.

Coach Ken Wood's Wellsville Tigers will be shooting for their second victory of the year against Cadiz (3-1), which whipped Barnesville last week, 14-6. The Tigers will have to stop the vaunted air game of the Cards to come up with a victory.

In other games, Irondale will take its 1-2 record to Wayne, Leetonia (1-2-1) will visit Columbiana with an identical record, Bentleyville visits South Side (1-3), and Dennison St. Mary's invades Beaver Local (1-3).

Ohio State, Oklahoma, Notre Dame Picked

Pitt Underdog In Grid Battle With Spartans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like a crisp, audible tackle to make one forget quickly and completely about baseball.

Why couldn't it have happened a week ago when double plays and sacrifice flies interfered to the extent that 12 of 52 choices were incorrect for a record of .769.

Here are this weekend's undisturbed picks:

Ohio State over Illinois: The Buckeyes start playing in earnest now that their Big Ten title is at stake. It is an Illini home game but you can see it on your TV screen.

Oklahoma over Texas: The lean raw Oklahomans meet the lean, raw Texans. But the Sooners have more of them and that should decide.

Notre Dame over Army: This could be the game of the day. The Cadets have, by statistics, one of the most devastating machines in the nation when on the attack in Dawkins, Anderson and Lonesome Bob, the isolated end. The Irish have Nick Pietrosante and a tougher defense than Army has encountered before.

Auburn over Kentucky: The Plainsmen are rated No. 1. There is no reason to disagree.

Wisconsin over Purdue: Two unbeaten, unscored-on powers of the Big Ten collide. Loss of Purdue's Wayne Farmer, a 240-pound tackle via an injury will hurt the Boilermakers.

Mississippi over Tulane: The Rebels have it again this year.

Michigan State over Pittsburgh: The Spartans will be mean after that tie with Michigan a week ago but those Panthers have claws.

Michigan over Navy: Navy will be protecting a 10-game winning streak but the loss of tackle Bob Reifsnyder wrecks the Middies chances of adding to the list.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

EAST: Colgate over Bucknell, Connecticut over Massachusetts, Yale over Columbia, Delaware over Lafayette, Lehigh over Harvard, Penn State over Marquette, Princeton over Penn, Rutgers over Richmond, Syracuse over Cornell, Detroit over Villanova, West Virginia over Boston University, Dartmouth over Brown.

SOUTH: Alabama over Furman, Duke over Baylor, Florida State over Georgia, Georgia Tech over Tennessee, Maryland over Texas A&M, Mississippi State over Memphis, North Carolina over South Carolina, Virginia Military over William & Mary, Virginia over Virginia Tech, North Carolina State over Wake Forest, Clemson over Vanderbilt.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Xavier, North Texas State over Drake, Houston over Wichita, Iowa over Indiana, Iowa State over Kansas, Minnesota over Northwestern, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Nebraska over over Tulsa.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Arkansas, Texas Christian over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Air Force over Colorado State University, Arizona State over Hardin Simmons, Colorado over Arizona, California over Utah, Washington State over Idaho, Utah State over New Mexico, College of Pacific over Brigham Young, Oregon over Southern California, Washington over Stanford, Oregon State over Wyoming, Oregon over Southern California.

LONG AND SHORT. The long and short of it on the St. Francis High School football team in Petoskey, Mich., are 4-foot-11 inch, 95-pound Gary Bobleski and 6-foot-3 inch, 235-pound Pete Gibbons. Coach Hugh Wilson says Gary is his "secret weapon." (UPI Telephoto)

Clods And Cap Are Credited In Saving Boy's Life

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP)—Clods and a cap were credited with saving the life of 27-year-old Melvin Scheele of Hamler, who was buried in nine feet of earth for nearly three hours Tuesday.

Scheele and Don Bishoff, 25, of Defiance, were laying sewer pipe in an 18-foot deep trench when one wall of the excavation collapsed, burying Scheele in an upright position.

Bishoff was able to get out and summon Wauseon volunteer firemen. Not knowing Scheele's exact position, the firemen used only their hands to dig for fear shovels might strike and cut him.

Scheele said that as the wall caved in, he yanked his cap over his face, keeping the dirt out of his mouth and nose. Clods of clay formed an air pocket over his face, the rescuers said.

Scheele was treated for shock and some loss of circulation.

Faces Life Term

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A mandatory life imprisonment is ahead of Ernest Auston, 35, for the killing last Feb. 6 of Mrs. Thomas L. Shellmond, 37. She was shot during an argument in a cafe. A three-judge panel Tuesday convicted Auston of first degree murder but recommended mercy. His attorney told the court the defendant was crazed with drink.

First It's Too Noisy Then It's Too Quiet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For 10 years, residents of Visitacion Valle have complained that Southern Pacific Railroad's freight car switching has kept them awake.

Someone poured cement on the SP yard tracks. The prank was discovered in time to prevent any derailment—but switching wasn't resumed until after daylight.

Some residents had a new complaint: It was so quiet they couldn't sleep.

To Continue Probe

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police plan to continue a probe into the death of Robert Henry, 13, found Monday with a clothesline around his neck and tied to a tree. Police said the youth could have died accidentally in a boyish experiment, but decided to canvass houses near the Henry home to search for information to unravel the mystery.

Spartans' Jim Chastain Cited Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A vital pass interception that saved Michigan State from a surprise defeat at the hands of Michigan brought Lineman of the Week honors today to Jim Chastain.

This is how the MSU junior center from Waynesburg, Pa. saved the day for the Spartans in the game last Saturday. At the time, early in the last period, Michigan led 12-6 and was threatening again. The Wolverines had the ball on the MSU 7 third down and goal to go.

Michigan quarterback Bob Ptacek faded back and threw a forward pass. Chastain intercepted the pass on the goal line. He downed on the three and from there Michigan State started a 97-yard drive for a touchdown and a 12-12 tie, the final score.

Two other centers, Bob Harrison of Oklahoma and E. J. Holub of Texas Tech, also received high praise in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Harrison intercepted an Oregon pass and ran 24 yards to the Oregon 20. The play led to the only touchdown of the game as the Sooners nipped Oregon 6-0. In addition, Harrison made eight tackles and shared in seven others.

Holub's great defensive work against Texas held the Longhorns to a 12-7 victory. He made six unassisted tackles and was credited with nine assists. In addition he broke up one pass and recovered a fumble.

Pete Wasilewski, George Washington tackle, and Murray Armstrong, Tennessee end, were prominent, too. Wasilewski kicked a 23-yard field goal with less than two minutes to play and brought GW an 11-8 victory over Furman. Armstrong figured in Tennessee's surprise victory over Miss State with a 55-yard pass interception.

Other linemen nominated:

Guards — John Bodkin, South Carolina. Al Ecuyero, Notre Dame, Tom Koenig, Southern Methodist. John Wooten, Colorado.

Ends — Buddy Dial, Rice. Wahoo McDaniel, Oklahoma.

The 191-pound block - busting fullback, who triggers Kent State's running attack, has scored three touchdowns, including one on a short plunge Saturday when the Golden Flashes bumped Ohio University from the ranks of the unbeaten, 14-6.

Martin presently ranks second in the M-A in individual rushing with 312 yards gained in 69 carries for an average per trip of 4.5 yards, and is tied for fourth in conference scoring with 18 points.

Lovell Coleman, Western Michigan's flashy back, is the conference leader in individual rushing with 559 yards gained in 62 carries for an average of 9 per try, and in scoring with 50 points on eight touchdowns and an extra-point run.

Martin's other pair of touchdowns came in Kent's 21-14 victory over Baldwin Wallace earlier this season. And his talents don't just include being Kent's ace ball-lugger. He has averaged over 50 yards as Kent's regular punter and also bolsters the defense of the Flashes by holding down an outside linebacker spot.

Kent whipped Xavier in its first game, 6-0, and faces Miami of Ohio in its next game Saturday at the Oxford school. Xavier knocked off Miami, 22-8, and the Flahes could wrap up the conference title with a win over the Redskins.

Kent's remaining home games are with Marshall, Oct. 18; Toledo University, Nov. 1, and Western Michigan, Nov. 15.

Salineville

Students who have begun studies for the fall semester at Kent State University include Misses Sue Leek, Betty Davis, Loretta Young, Patty D'Angelo and Kay Lindner and Jerry Strabley, Robert Thomas and Charles Merriman. John Robert Madison and Miss Kay Madison are at Ohio State University, and Paul Welch and Merl Jackman are at Mt. Union College.

Miss Janice Dunlap returned Tuesday to the University of Mexico after a two-week visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dunlap, of Monroe Heights.

The Rev. Charles Richardson and daughter, Sharon, of New Waterford visited here Saturday.

Ohio State, Oklahoma, Notre Dame Picked

Pitt Underdog In Grid Battle With Spartans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Why couldn't it have happened a week ago when double plays and sacrifice flies interfered to the extent that 12 of 52 choices were incorrect for a record of .769.

Here are this weekend's undisturbed picks:

Ohio State over Illinois: The Buckeyes start playing in earnest now that their Big Ten title is at stake. It is an Illini home game but you can see it on your TV screen.

Oklahoma over Texas: The lean raw Oklahomans meet the lean, raw Texans. But the Sooners have more of them and that should decide.

Notre Dame over Army: This could be the game of the day. The Cadets have, by statistics, one of the most devastating machines in the nation when on the attack in Dawkins, Anderson and Lonesome Bob, the isolated end. The Irish have Nick Pietrosante and a tougher defense than Army has encountered before.

Auburn over Kentucky: The Plainsmen are rated No. 1. There is no reason to disagree.

Wisconsin over Purdue: Two unbeaten, unscored-on powers of the Big Ten collide. Loss of Purdue's Wayne Farmer, a 240-pound tackle via an injury will hurt the Boilermakers.

Mississippi over Tulane: The Rebels have it again this year.

Michigan State over Pittsburgh: The Spartans will be mean after that tie with Michigan a week ago but those Panthers have claws.

Michigan over Navy: Navy will be protecting a 10-game winning streak but the loss of tackle Bob Reifsnyder wrecks the Middies chances of adding to the list.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

EAST: Colgate over Bucknell, Connecticut over Massachusetts, Yale over Columbia, Delaware over Lafayette, Lehigh over Harvard, Penn State over Marquette, Princeton over Penn, Rutgers over Richmond, Syracuse over Cornell, Detroit over Villanova, West Virginia over Boston University, Dartmouth over Brown.

SOUTH: Alabama over Furman, Duke over Baylor, Florida State over Georgia, Georgia Tech over Tennessee, Maryland over Texas A&M, Mississippi State over Memphis, North Carolina over South Carolina, Virginia Military over William & Mary, Virginia over Virginia Tech, North Carolina State over Wake Forest, Clemson over Vanderbilt.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Xavier, North Texas State over Drake, Houston over Wichita, Iowa over Indiana, Iowa State over Kansas, Minnesota over Northwestern, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Nebraska over over Tulsa.

FAR WEST: Air Force over Colorado State University, Arizona State over Hardin Simmons, Colorado over Arizona, California over Utah, Washington State over Idaho, Utah State over New Mexico, College of Pacific over Birgham Young, Oregon over Southern California, Washington over Stanford, Oregon State over Wyoming, Oregon over Southern California.

LONG AND SHORT. The long and short of it on the St. Francis High School football team in Petoskey, Mich., are 4-foot-11 inch, 95-pound Gary Bobleski and 6-foot-3 inch, 235-pound Pete Gibbons. Coach Hugh Wilson says Gary is his "secret weapon." (UPI Telephoto)

Spartans' Jim Chastain Cited Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A vital pass interception that saved Michigan State from a surprise defeat at the hands of Michigan brought Lineman of the Week honors today to Jim Chastain.

This is how the MSU junior center from Waynesburg, Pa. saved the day for the Spartans in the game last Saturday. At the time, early in the last period, Michigan led 12-6 and was threatening again. The Wolverines had the ball on the MSU 7 third down and goal to go.

Michigan quarterback Bob Ptacek faded back and threw a forward pass. Chastain intercepted the pass on the goal line. He downed on the three and from there Michigan State started a 97-yard drive for a touchdown and a 12-12 tie, the final score.

Two other centers, Bob Harrison of Oklahoma and E. J. Holub of Texas Tech, also received high praise in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Harrison intercepted an Oregon pass and ran 24 yards to the Oregon 20. The play led to the only touchdown of the game as the Sooners nipped Oregon 6-0. In addition, Harrison made eight tackles and shared in seven others.

Holub's great defensive work against Texas held the Longhorns to a 12-7 victory. He made six unassisted tackles and was credited with nine assists. In addition he broke up one pass and recovered a fumble.

Pete Wasilewski, George Washington tackle, and Murray Armstrong, Tennessee end, were prominent, too. Wasilewski kicked a 23-yard field goal with less than two minutes to play and brought GW an 11-8 victory over Furman. Armstrong figured in Tennessee's surprise victory over Miss State with a 55-yard pass interception.

Other linemen nominated:

Guards — John Bodkin, South Carolina. Al Ecuyero, Notre Dame, Tom Koenig, Southern Methodist. John Wooten, Colorado.

Ends — Buddy Dial, Rice. Wahoo McDaniel, Oklahoma.

The 191-pound block - busting fullback, who triggers Kent State's running attack, has scored three touchdowns, including one on a short plunge Saturday when the Golden Flashes bumped Ohio University from the ranks of the unbeaten, 14-6.

Martin presently ranks second in the M-A in individual rushing with 312 yards gained in 69 carries for an average per trip of 4.5 yards, and is tied for fourth in conference scoring with 18 points.

Lovell Coleman, Western Michigan's flashy back, is the conference leader in individual rushing with 559 yards gained in 62 carries for an average of 9 per try, and in scoring with 50 points on eight touchdowns and an extra-point run.

Martin's other pair of touchdowns came in Kent's 21-14 victory over Baldwin Wallace earlier this season. And his talents don't just include being Kent's ace ballugger. He has averaged over 50 yards as Kent's regular punter and also bolsters the defense of the Flashes by holding down an outside linebacker spot.

Kent whipped Xavier in its first game, 6-0, and faces Miami of Ohio in its next game Saturday at the Oxford school. Xavier knocked off Miami, 22-8, and the Flahes could wrap up the conference title with a win over the Redskins.

Although Kent is last in the conference in team offense, it is first in defense by limiting its opponents to only an average of 168 yards gained.

Kent's remaining home games are with Marshall, Oct. 18; Toledo University, Nov. 1, and Western Michigan, Nov. 15.

Vital To 12 Counties In Ohio—On Nov. 4 Ballot

Metropolitan Federation Proposal Aims To Reverse Damaging Trend

(The metropolitan federation amendment proposal, Questoin No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot, is vital to the 12 metropolitan counties, but there "yes" votes is to be passed. This is the sec- counties in Ohio. It would have no effect in the other 76 are needed if the amendment ond of four articles outlining the amendment.)

By GILBERT F. SHEPARD
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

The metropolitan federation amendment, up for a vote by Ohio electors Nov. 4, is designed to help larger cities reverse a damaging trend in municipal growth which has been apparent for the last 13 years.

The amendment is permissive in nature. It allows 12 counties of the state which have cities of more than 50,000 population to set up federation charters between the largest city and other contiguous political subdivisions.

Such charters could provide for administration of various matters like police and fire protection, parks, recreation, water distribution and others by an agency which would overlap present political boundaries.

NEED FOR SOME such arrangement has been apparent since the end of World War II.

However, as cities, counties and townships presently are organized, a patchwork of separate political jurisdictions makes it impossible for many metropolitan residents to enjoy every modern-day service.

Law enforcement officials, for instance, are unable to provide assistance to anyone who happens to live beyond an artificial line denoting their jurisdiction. Firemen cannot answer certain calls which are out of their territory.

Many stories are told of people's losing their homes and possessions simply because a fire company, located near their home, was unable to respond to their call for help because it served a different municipality.

BY THE TIME another fire company — often a volunteer unit requiring at least a short time to assemble — arrived from a more distant point, there was little left for it to do.

Metropolitan areas which would benefit from the proposed amendment on the ballot include Canton, Lima, Hamilton, Springfield, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Lorain, Toledo, Youngstown, Dayton and Akron.

Steubenville, Zanesville and Mansfield also might win its benefits if their population passes the 50,000 mark in the 1960 census.

The hodge-podge of conflicting municipal, township and county jurisdictions started with the disruption of the old pattern of community life in most cities after World War II.

IT WAS THEN that Americans began to move into the suburbs in a steadily swelling stream.

There had been suburbs before this time, of course, but never on the grand scale they were to assume during the 13 years after 1945.

New developments on the periphery of cities began to spring up as young couples followed their dream of owning "a little place in the country."

The ring of hammers and whine of power saws was heard continuously as builders frantically tried to keep up with the surging demand for housing.

THERE WAS LITTLE, if any, planning behind the exodus. Prospective home owners wanted to live in the country and snapped up anything that was built there.

In their rush, some builders didn't always use first-quality materials or building methods. Short cuts became the order of the day. To some, anything was justified as long as they could get the structure up fast.

City building department officials looked on helplessly all over the country as these developments sprang up under their noses — and just beyond the city limits where they had no authority.

But, even so, building regulations in those days were not always equal to the situation, because no one ever had seen such a building boom before. Everything was in a state of confusion.

MANY BUILDERS tried to induce city councils to provide water and sewer service to the new allotments.

But they couldn't wait long for action. When they failed to receive immediate approval, they went ahead and drilled wells and installed septic tanks.

Sometimes lot sizes did not allow adequate leeching area for these tanks, even though they were installed in compliance with state regulations, and raw and partially treated sewage flowed out into the streets.

The new residents hadn't figured that moving to suburbia would mean doing without many of the commonest services they had enjoyed in the larger community.

FROM THE CITY'S viewpoint, burgeoning incorporated and unincorporated areas on its borders were a cause for concern.

Residential building lots in most large communities, as time went on, were almost exhausted within the city limits and there were few industrial sites available which would attract life-giving revenues.

Industries were forced to locate in the suburbs and were heartily welcomed there by residents who envisioned the relief the corporate tax dollars would give their overburdened purses.

Any attempt by the central city to annex this industrial territory —or any territory, for that matter — was resisted bitterly by the suburbanites.

APPROVAL of residents of outlying areas must be obtained before annexation can take place. And such reisdents, conscious of the city's usually higher tax rate, have voted for the most part against joining cities in general.

Sometimes, as a result of squabbles over annexation, smaller communities have incorporated as villages and effectively blocked off any annexation attempts by cities.

Of late years, regional planning commissions have sprung up in metropolitan areas in an effort to provide intelligent guidance to future city expansion and correct, as far as it is possible, some of the glaring mistakes of the past.

THEY HAVE made considerable programs in many urban centers, but their work still is in its infancy and has a long way to go.

Planning commissions would not be included in federation plans set up under Question No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot, however, but very likely would be of vast help to any federation in the same advisory capacity that they now serve any city.

Proponents of the metropolitan federation amendment boost it as a measure which creates a common meeting ground on which hard-pressed residents of city and suburbs can get together and solve their thorny problems.

By pooling fire, police, sewer, water and other services as needed, they point out that residents not only can make the total cost of providing them less actually can offer better services which will attract business and industry to the area.

NO ONE is forced to do anything in the matter. The new amendment simply permits a federation to be formed — something that has not been possible before under Ohio law.

The voters have control throughout the procedure and they can have as much or as little federation as they think their situation warrants.

NEXT: There's no threat to any political subdivision.

Governor Hitches Ride To Make It To Rally

AHOSKIE, N.C. (AP)—The welcoming committee had returned empty-handed from an airport and it looked as if the Democratic rally would fizzle. When Gov. Luther Hodges and Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D-NC) arrived, it was in a farmer's rattling pickup truck.

Vital To 12 Counties In Ohio–On Nov. 4 Ballot

Metropolitan Federation Proposal Aims To Reverse Damaging Trend

(The metropolitan federation amendment proposal, Questoin No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot, is vital to the 12 metropolitan counties, but there "yes" votes is to be passed. This is the sec- counties in Ohio. It would have no effect in the other 76 are needed if the amendment ond of four articles outlining the amendment.)

By GILBERT F. SHEPARD
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

The metropolitan federation amendment, up for a vote by Ohio electors Nov. 4, is designed to help larger cities reverse a damaging trend in municipal growth which has been apparent for the last 13 years.

The amendment is permissive in nature. It allows 12 counties of the state which have cities of more than 50,000 population to set up federation charters between the largest city and other contiguous political subdivisions.

Such charters could provide for administration of various matters like police and fire protection, parks, recreation, water distribution and others by an agency which would overlap present political boundaries.

NEED FOR SOME such arrangement has been apparent since the end of World War II.

However, as cities, counties and townships presently are organized, a patchwork of separate political jurisdictions makes it impossible for many metropolitan residents to enjoy every modern-day service.

Law enforcement officials, for instance, are unable to provide assistance to anyone who happens to live beyond an artificial line denoting their jurisdiction. Firemen cannot answer certain calls which are out of their territory.

Many stories are told of people's losing their homes and possessions simply because a fire company, located near their home, was unable to respond to their call for help because it served a different municipality.

BY THE TIME another fire company — often a volunteer unit requiring at least a short time to assemble — arrived from a more distant point, there was little left for it to do.

Metropolitan areas which would benefit from the proposed amendment on the ballot include Canton, Lima, Hamilton, Springfield, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Lorain, Toledo, Youngstown, Dayton and Akron.

Steubenville, Zanesville and Mansfield also might win its benefits if their population passes the 50,000 mark in the 1960 census.

The hodge-podge of conflicting municipal, township and county jurisdictions started with the disruption of the old pattern of community life in most cities after World War II.

IT WAS THEN that Americans began to move into the suburbs in a steadily swelling stream.

There had been suburbs before this time, of course, but never on the grand scale they were to assume during the 13 years after 1945.

New developments on the periphery of cities began to spring up as young couples followed their dream of owning "a little place in the country."

The ring of hammers and whine of power saws was heard continuously as builders frantically tried to keep up with the surging demand for housing.

THERE WAS LITTLE, if any, planning behind the exodus. Prospective home owners wanted to live in the country and snapped up anything that was built there.

In their rush, some builders didn't always use first-quality materials or building methods. Short cuts became the order of the day. To some, anything was justified as long as they could get the structure up fast.

City building department officials looked on helplessly all over the country as these developments sprang up under their noses — and just beyond the city limits where they had no authority.

But, even so, building regulations in those days were not always equal to the situation, because no one ever had seen such a building boom before. Everything was in a state of confusion.

MANY BUILDERS tried to induce city councils to provide water and sewer service to the new allotments.

But they couldn't wait long for action. When they failed to receive immediate approval, they went ahead and drilled wells and installed septic tanks.

Sometimes lot sizes did not allow adequate leeching area for these tanks, even though they were installed in compliance with state regulations, and raw and partially treated sewage flowed out into the streets.

It wasn't long, either, before suburbanites found that a residential tax base isn't sufficient to support necessary services.

The new residents hadn't figured that moving to suburbia would mean doing without many of the commonest services they had enjoyed in the larger community.

FROM THE CITY'S viewpoint, burgeoning incorporated and unincorporated areas on its borders were a cause for concern.

Residential building lots in most large communities, as time went on, were almost exhausted within the city limits and there were few industrial sites available which would attract life-giving revenues.

Industries were forced to locate in the suburbs and were heartily welcomed there by residents who envisioned the relief the corporate tax dollars would give their overburdened purses.

Any attempt by the central city to annex this industrial territory —or any territory, for that matter — was resisted bitterly by the suburbanites.

In Ohio, stringent annexation laws, put through the State Legislature by its rural majority, made annexation extremely difficult. They still do today.

APPROVAL of residents of outlying areas must be obtained before annexation can take place. And such reisdents, conscious of the city's usually higher tax rate, have voted for the most part against joining cities in general.

Sometimes, as a result of squabbles over annexation, smaller communities have incorporated as villages and effectively blocked off any annexation attempts by cities.

Of late years, regional planning commissions have sprung up in metropolitan areas in an effort to provide intelligent guidance to future city expansion and correct, as far as it is possible, some of the glaring mistakes of the past.

THEY HAVE made considerable programs in many urban centers, but their work still is in its infancy and has a long way to go.

Planning commissions would not be included in federation plans set up under Question No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot, however, but very likely would be of vast help to any federation in the same advisory capacity that they now serve any city.

Proponents of the metropolitan federation amendment boost it as a measure which creates a common meeting ground on which hard-pressed residents of city and suburbs can get together and solve their thorny problems.

By pooling fire, police, sewer, water and other services as needed, they point out that residents not only can make the total cost of providing them less actually can offer better services which will attract business and industry to the area.

NO ONE is forced to do anything in the matter. The new amendment simply permits a federation to be formed — something that has not been possible before under Ohio law.

The voters have control throughout the procedure and they can have as much or as little federation as they think their situation warrants.

NEXT: There's no threat to any political subdivision.

Governor Hitches Ride To Make It To Rally

AHOSKIE, N.C. (AP)—The welcoming committee had returned empty-handed from an airport and it looked as if the Democratic rally would fizzle. When Gov. Luther Hodges and Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D-NC) arrived, it was in a farmer's rattling pickup truck.

"We finally hitched a ride," Hodges explained.

Mirza Rules Pakistan By Martial Law

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — President Iskander Mirza ruled Pakistan under martial law today after abolishing the government to clear the way for writing a new constitution.

Mirza pledged Pakistan to honor all international commitments. The nation has a mutual defense treaty with the United States and belongs to two anti-Communist alliances, the Baghdad Pact and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Mirza, a 59-year-old former major general, took over Tuesday with strong criticism of politicians who have led Pakistan from one political crisis to another since the British separated the Moslem nation from India in 1947. The President outlawed political parties.

He named Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan, commander in chief of the Pakistani army, as chief martial law administrator and placed all armed forces under him.

Mirza annulled the constitution, dissolved the central and provincial governments and abolished the national and provincial assemblies. The two provinces of Pakistan, separated by 900 miles of India, contain about 81 million persons.

The President said he would call together "a number of patriotic persons to examine problems in the political field and devise a constitution more suitable to the genius of the Moslem people."

"When it is ready and at an appropriate time, it will be submitted to a referendum of the people," he added.

Toledo Glass Plants Jump Gun On Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Workers at Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. plants here have jumped the gun on a Friday strike deadline.

Some 6,000 employes—half of the company's 12,000-man work force—struck late Tuesday over disputed provisions of a new contract. Workers at L-O-F plants in Charleston, W. Va., Ottawa, Ill. and Shreveport, La. remained on the job.

The company expressed surprise at the walkout because noon Oct. 10 had been set as a strike deadline by the United Glass and Ceramics Workers Union. The union's contract expired Sept. 30.

The union permitted maintenace men to enter the struck plants to allow an orderly shutdown. To avoid damage, glass furnaces must be cooled slowly.

The dispute, the union said, centers on a company attempt to alter incentive provisions contained in the expired contract. Wages are not an issue, the union added.

A company spokesman said several issues were involved. The company said it had agreed to change its position "on certain sections of the contract which had been unacceptable to the union."

Slouching Good For Back, Bone Specialist Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When a teen-ager slouches into a room and collapses into a chair like a big hunk of liver he is doing something good for his back, a bone specialist said today.

The slump, when it results in a forward curvature of the lower backbone, causes a distribution of weight burden and lessens the pressure on the discs between the vertebrae, said Dr. Loren L. Stephens of Arcadia, Calif.

Bad for the back, Dr. Stepehns told the California Academy of General Practice, is the ramrod-straight sitting position, in which the lower part of the spine is made to bow rearward. This Dr. Stephens called the West Point position. He termed it a malignant posture, meaning that it tended to lead from bad to worse.
